New York Stock Market Trading Ordered Curtailed

SESSIONS TO BE HELD TO THREE HOURS

Hours Beginning Monday to Be From Noon Until 3 o'Clock in Afternoon

CURB HOURS REDUCED

Notice Issued Today That Action Taken to Give Employees Days of Rest

NEW YORK, July 22.—(UP)—The New York stock exchange will curtail its trading sessions from five to three hours daily beginning Monday, it was announced today.

Hours will be noon to 3 p.m. instead of 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The exchange will remain open today, and decision on closing next Saturday will be reserved until next week.

The New York curb exchange took the same action as the big board, ordering opening at noon Monday and until further notice for full sessions.

The Commodities Exchange, Inc. (merger of the rubber, hide, metal, and silk exchanges) will open at the usual hour, it was decided.

The exchange issued the following notice:

"Due to the sustained pressure under which members and the employees of their firms and of the stock clearing corporation have been working for a very considerable length of time and particularly so in the last few days, the governing committee by resolution this morning has determined that beginning with Monday, July 24, 1933, and until further notice, the exchange will open at 12 noon instead of at 10 o'clock on full business days, and furthermore the governing committee will determine next week provided the present rate of activity continues whether or not the exchange will be closed next Saturday."

The New York cotton exchange announced it would be open as usual. The New York Commodities Exchange, Inc., will open at the regular time today.

FRESNO HEAT TAKES LONG BEARD'S TOLL

MERCED, Calif., July 22.—(UP)—James C. Williams, 57, veteran "knight of the road" from Tulsa, Okla., was without his foot-long beard today. The San Joaquin valley sun got it.

Williams, who boasted he had not shaved in 40 years, and that he had cultivated the whiskers that long, finally succumbed to the heat and had the beard removed. He did not recognize himself.

TO MOVE MINERS TO FARMS

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today ordered Secretary of Interior Ickes to undertake the expenditure of $25,000,000 in the transfer of miners and others from over-populated industrial areas to subsistence farms where they may find new means of livelihood.

The executive order inaugurating the administration's back-to-the-soil movement was accompanied by another setting aside $20,000,000 for purchase of forest lands in furtherance of national recovery.

SOCIETY GIRL AND ROOSEVELT TO WED TODAY

Son of President and Miss Goggin of Texas to Be Married at 6 p. m.

BULLETIN
BURLINGTON, Ia., July 22.—(UP)—A marriage license was issued at midday for Elliott Roosevelt, second son of the president, and Miss Ruth Goggin, Fort Worth, Tex., society girl, will be married here at 6 p. m. today.

A double ring ceremony will be held at the home of the bride, the Goggin family, at 6 p. m. today. The scene of the ceremony, definitely announced a few hours before it, was at the home of George C. Swiler, prominent Burlington, Ia., banker, and uncle of the bride.

The official guest list included: David Goggin, brother of the bride; Mary Ruth Goggin, Fort Worth, Texas, niece of Ruth; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moore of Chicago; Mrs. Park Sowden and son George of Palatine, N. Y.; sisters of Mrs. George Swiler of Burlington; Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, sister of the bridegroom; and members of the Swiler household.

No local guest will be invited. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Moore are sisters of the bride.

The bride will wear white georgette and will carry a bouquet of lilacs of the valley. Roosevelt will be attired in white flannels and blue coat. Mrs. Swiler and

EMPLOYMENT DRIVE SURGING FORWARD

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's re-employment drive surged forward today on a wave of enthusiastic support from all parts of the country.

Telegrams streamed into the office of Recovery Administrator Hugh Johnson at the rate of six a minute, pledging co-operation in the drive for an universal volunteer agreement to spread employment and increase the wages of millions.

Elated by initial response, Johnson hoped the program would put back to work 6,000,000 of the men and women now idle.

300 SOUND MEN IN HOLLYWOOD STRIKE

HOLLYWOOD, July 22.—(UP)—A tieup in motion picture production was threatened today when a walkout of 300 sound men from 12 major studios was ordered, effective at midnight tonight.

The strike was called by officials of the International Alliance Theatrical Stage Employees after producers had refused to negotiate individual wage contracts.

Although there are 600 sound men in the local union, only 300 who work for members of the Motion Picture Producers association will be effected, it was explained.

TODAY'S BRIDE
Miss Ruth Goggin of Fort Worth, Tex., who will be married to Elliott Roosevelt son of President Roosevelt at Burlington, Ia., at 6 o'clock this evening.

INCOME TAX IS CALLED BEFORE STATE SOLONS

Blockade of Bill is Withdrawn by Opposition in Lower House Today

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 22.—(UP)—Blockade of an income tax bill today was withdrawn by sales tax forces in the state assembly, and the house plunged into consideration of a proposed net tax based on one-third the 1932 federal rates. This would raise $15,000,000 a biennium.

Acrimonious debate preceded this initial victory for a farm-labor group under Assemblyman F. C. Clowdsley, Stockton.

Assemblyman Charles Lyon, Los Angeles, started to rally sales tax forces to block consideration of an income tax prior to passage of the 21-2 per cent retail sales levy.

The lower house late yesterday promptly batted down the sales tax rate from 3 to 2 1/2 per cent. The latter rate was a compromise between "two percenters" and "three percenters."

Assemblyman Lawrence Cobb, Los Angeles, offered the lower rate amendment on behalf of the interhouse committee of 14. He argued improved business conditions assured $100,000,000 in revenue, the yield which majorities in both houses felt was necessary.

The state's deficit which the legislature hopes to wipe out is approximately $128,000,000.

A fist fight on the assembly floor was barely averted.

Assemblyman E. V. Latham, Alhambra, charged Assemblyman F. C. Clowdsley, Democratic floor leader, urged legislative speed.

NINE NATIONS IN FOUR YEAR SILVER PACT

Control Agreement Will Go Into Effect on January of Next Year

LONDON, July 22.—(UP)—Nine nations, producers of silver or holders of silver bullion, signed a four year silver control agreement at a secret meeting late today in the suite of Senator Key Pittman, Dem., Nevada, American silver expert at the world economic conference.

World economic conference delegates of Canada, Mexico, Bolivia, Peru, Spain, India, Australia, and China signed in addition to Pittman.

The agreement is to run for four years from January 1. The necessary ratifications, before the agreement can be binding on the governments concerned, must be deposited at Washington not later than April 1, 1934.

The agreement binds the Indian government not to sell more than 100,000,000 fine ounces of silver during the agreement's life, with an average annual quota of 35,000,000 ounces.

The Spanish government is not to sell more than 5,000,000 ounces annually. The Chinese government is not to sell any silver resulting from demonetized coin.

The governments of Australia, Bolivia, Canada, the United States, Mexico and Peru undertake not to sell any silver and aggregate to purchase 35,000,000 fine ounces annually from their own mine production.

This amount would be impounded in their respective treasuries to be used for currency purposes, either coinage or currency reserves.

Conclusion of the agreement was regarded as a personal triumph for Pittman, who had battled continuously since the world economic conference opened to get the holding countries to agree to limit sales of surplus silver and to get the producing countries to buy an amount equivalent to the amount the three holding countries would undertake to sell annually, thus establishing price stability.

TENNESSEE IS WET BY 9000 MAJORITY

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 22.—(UP)—Dry leaders refused to concede "anything" today as practically complete returns from Thursday's election placed Tennessee among the states favoring repeal of the 18th amendment. The results made it the 19th to vote wet.

With all but 121 precincts counted, repeal had a majority of a little less than 9000 votes.

The missing districts were scattered in rural sections and were expected to be largely dry.

Dr. John Baggett, dry leader, said his committee was considering fraud charges. He criticized the "political machine" in Memphis, where the vote was 32,652 for repeal and 2114 against.

GROCERY FIRM ORDERS $6000 DIVIDEND AND $8000 BONUS

Indicating a definite upturn of business and wholehearted co-operation with the industrial recovery program of President Roosevelt, directors of the Smart and Final company, limited, yesterday ordered distribution of a bonus to all employees and payment of a dividend on all common stock.

The bonus and dividend distribution will release into business channels more than $14,000 and will benefit 248 employees of the wholesale grocery concern in addition to owners of common stock in the concern.

According to J. S. Smart, chairman of the board of directors of the organization, the bonus distribution to em-

Many Boats Entered In Big Pageant

Two United States Cruisers Will Join Searchlights With Other Lights

NEWPORT BEACH, July 22.—Twenty-five years of progress in the Newport Bay district and to some extent in Southern California will be celebrated amidst the charm and splendor of a "moonlight bay" here tonight, the occasion of the annual Tournament of Lights, which really began as the "water carnival" in 1908.

With brilliantly illuminated floats and boats, representing many other Southern California communities as well as organizations and individuals in the Harbor district, with aerial fireworks from an airplane and with two U. S. cruisers aiding in the celebration, the parade, which takes place along a five-mile course between 3 and 10 p. m., is expected to attract perhaps 100,000 persons and to display "a million gleaming lights on one in a million nights."

Details of the part the two navy cruisers, U. S. S. Chester and U. S. S. Salt Lake City, will play in the celebration were learned this morning, as the two vessels anchored off shore, the Chester off Balboa pier and the Salt Lake City off Newport Beach.

Cruisers Remain
The two ships will be here all day today and tomorrow, a motor launch from each will take part in the parade this evening, a special trophy being offered by the chamber of commerce for this special naval division. Shore-boats from the Chester will carry visitors to and from the Washington street pier in the bay from 1 to 5 this afternoon and from 10 to 11:30 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m. Sunday, while boats from the Salt Lake City will run to and from Newport Beach pier, to carry visitors, if Commandeur Lewis Cox of that ship believes it feasible.

Rear-Admiral H. E. Lackey, commander of cruiser division No. 4 of the navy, is on board his flagship, the U. S. S. Chester, which is commanded by Capt. M. K. Metcalf, while the Salt Lake

OREGON 20TH STATE TO FAVOR REPEAL

PORTLAND, Ore., July 22.—(UP)—For the first time since 1914, Oregon today had voted against prohibition, and by a vote which returns from about half the state indicate will be about 3 to 2.

This state thereby became the twentieth to ratify the 21st (repeal) amendment.

At the same time Oregon wiped from its state constitution the "bone dry" amendment which was first voted in 1914, and made more stringent in 1916.

Incomplete returns from 1112 of the state's 1735 precincts showed:

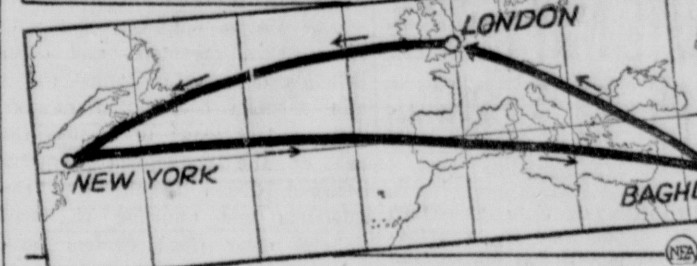

For repeal, 80,998.
Against repeal, 52,890.

They climbed into the plane. Mollison took the controls. They started, circled the sands, and were off for the sea, escorted by four airplanes.

LEAVE FOR UNITED STATES

James A. Mollison and wife, Amy Johnson, took off from Pendine Sands, Wales, this morning in their airplane "Seafarer" for New York. They expect to reach New York in 34 hours, and then will set out on a non-stop flight for Bagdad, Mesopotamia.

FLYING SWEETHEARTS OF ENGLAND HOP OFF FOR N. Y.

PENDINE SANDS, Wales, July 22.—(UP)—James and Amy Mollison, the "Flying Sweethearts," took off at 11:59 a. m. today, 2:59 a. m. (p.s.t.) in their airplane Seafarer for New York.

They arrived in their plane from London, only two hours and 29 minutes earlier.

They said they hoped to reach New York in about 34 hours. After resting and overhauling their plane to take off for Bagdad, Mesopotamia, trying for the long distance non-stop record.

They said they hoped to be back in England within seven to 10 days. "For eight weeks we have been waiting," said Mrs. Mollison. "It has been a terrible strain."

"Getting away is heaven to me. We will take turns piloting the plane. I will do most of the flying in the daytime and Jim will take control at night."

"I have every confidence in Jim and I am sure we shall do it."

The Mollisons expected a head wind over most of the Atlantic, but a more moderate one than had been obtained for the last few weeks.

Weather conditions, never ideal for a westward flight because of prevailing westerly winds, seemed fairly good. There was a light southwest wind along their course to about 800 miles west of Ireland. There was some fog and drizzle in mid-Atlantic. After that indications were for a 15-mile westerly wind to Newfoundland, then fairly good weather to New York.

Standing together by their plane the Flying Sweethearts took turns as usual, in talking for the team.

"I never was so excited in my life," said Amy. "I shall be the first woman to fly the Atlantic from east to west."

"We are taking only barely sugar and coffee for the flight."

"We may encounter somewhat sticky conditions on the first part of the journey," said her husband. "But the weather report was good enough to justify a start."

"We have received thousands of messages. Our favorite is a St. Christopher—patron saint of aviators. It scraped the columnist's neck."

ROOSEVELT PLANS WEEK-END CRUISE

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today planned a week-end cruise down the Potomac during which time he was expected to draft the text of what his advisers said would be one of the most important public pronouncements he has made since entering the White House.

The pronouncement will be made in a speech at 9:30 p. m. Monday. While the nature of his remarks were not known, it is believed they would deal with his program for domestic recovery.

Mr. Roosevelt departed from the navy yard dock at 4 p. m. aboard the Sequoia. He will remain on the yacht until shortly before dinner time Sunday night.

Oklahoma "Iron Man" Expects to Reach New York in Early Morning Hours

2200 MILE JOURNEY

Twenty Hours Ahead of Record When He Leaves Edmonton This Morning

BULLETIN
WINNIPEG, July 22.—(UP)—A plane believed to be the Winnie Mae, flown by Wiley Post, round the world flier, was sighted over Winnipeg at 1:30 p. m. C.S.T., today.

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask., July 22.—(UP)—Wiley Post passed North Battleford today at 9:14 a. m. mountain time (12:15 p. m. EDT). North Battleford is 229 miles east of Edmonton.

EDMONTON, Alta., July 22.—(UP)—Wiley Post shot his monoplane Winnie Mae eastward from Edmonton today on one long and final flight for New York—and a new record in his sizzling journey around the world.

Leaving Edmonton at 10:41 a. m. EDT, Post started the 2200 mile flight to his final goal 30 hours and 12 minutes ahead of the Post-Gatty record.

Post's plane was fueled with 438 gallons of gasoline and the sturdy round-the-world flier started the dash to New York, confident of achieving the first flight alone around the globe as well as breaking the record of eight days, 15 hours and 51 minutes which he and Harold Gatty now hold.

With luck, he hoped to make the flight to Floyd Bennett field in about 15 hours, arriving early Sunday morning. He has until 9 p. m. Sunday to complete the trip and still break the record.

Post flew over the center of the city at 700 feet altitude, speeding eastward. His plane slowly disappeared to the east.

Post said he was feeling fine when he climbed in his plane and that he would fly by the most direct route to New York, probably north of Winnipeg, thence via Port Arthur, Ont.; northern Lake Superior; Lake Huron, Toronto, Lake Ontario, thence to Buffalo, N. Y., or Rochester, and then to Elmira, N. Y.

New spark plugs were put in the plane at Post's request. The crowd was so great when he entered his plane that helpers had to clear a way for him. He got the Winnie Mae into the air after a half-mile run.

OPERATE ON HART
HOLLYWOOD, July 22.—(UP)—William S. Hart, veteran cowboy screen hero of the silent days, was reported "resting comfortably" following an operation today for an abdominal ailment.

Dr. E. C. Moore said the film player withstood the operation well.

LIGHT TOURNEY WILL BE HELD THIS EVENING

City is commanded by Capt. Lewis Com.

The two cruizers will have their huge searchlights lighted during the parade between 8 and 10 this evening to add to the general plot of lights. In addition to the floats and boats in the parade, scores of yachts at anchor, houses and piers will be brilliantly illuminated during the evening.

Patrol Course
The life-saving corps of the Newport Beach Fire Department and the Fire Department itself under Chief F. W. Crocker will patrol the course of the parade this evening, to be ready for fire or drowning dangers, if any. The life-saving division also has a float in the parade.

Santa Ana, Long Beach, Pasadena, Anaheim, Costa Mesa, Huntington Beach and Redondo are among the outside communities with floats. Three Sea Scout ships will be entered, Newport Beach, Long Beach and Fullerton. Harbor district organizations with entries include the City of Newport Beach, the American Legion, the Service club, Standard Bearers of the Community church and Corona del Mar, which will be represented by a gondola, representing 25 years of growth. The first parade consisted of one gondola and eight canoes lighted with Japanese lanterns.

Two novelty entries are a kayak, to be rowed the entire five-mile course of the parade by Charles Plummer, well known swimming expert of Balboa, and an "aquabike," consisting of a bicycle on pontoons, which will be pedaled around by Jay Buxton of Hawthorne. Yacht clubs and private individuals have entered numerous boats, large and small, competing for the prize in several divisions.

Charming Girls
Some of the most charming girls of the Southland will appear on many of the entries, as the preliminary part of a "Girl-of-Charm" contest, final judging in which will take place August 20, with a trip to the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago as the chief prize.

Andrew Elliott of Balboa, Thelma Cook and Blanche Siegel of Newport Beach, Polly White of Lido

WILL ROGERS says:

SALINAS, July 22.—(To the Editor of The Register):—Say, I got kinder mixed on per cent in the paper this morning. I said liquor tax should be 50 per cent. Well, I am going to have to raise you another 50. I meant 100 per cent. You don't mind that little raise, do you? Say, those old moonshiners in Tennessee come pretty near protecting their industry in yesterday's election didn't they?

What did I tell you about that little one-eyed Oklahoma boy, he is a hawk ain't he? He holds the doubles and singles championship now. If he ever decides to make up a four-some to go round I will take a ticket with him. This is Salinas' big day, the king of California rodeos. Here is where you see the old California boys with the long rawhide riata. Beautiful flight here by the Seaboard Air Line. And saw all the beautiful ranches.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS

Ile and Waneta Bradford of Huntington Beach are among the local entries.

Traffic will be so handled and the route of the parade so arranged that all may see the parade without inconvenience. It will start at 8 p. m. north of Lido Isle, going around its eastern end, then westerly along the south shore of Lido Isle, then turning south and proceeding easterly along the entire Newport-Balboa peninsula, then past Corona del Mar northwesterly and along the south shore of Balboa Island to the starting point.

The judges will first view yachts at anchor and piers and houses in competition from a boat, later seeing the parade pass by the official reviewing stand at the Balboa Pavilion ballroom.

SENATE MAY OPPOSE ROLPH RACE BOARD

SACRAMENTO, July 22.—(UP)—Senate opposition to appointment of Daniel O'Brien, former San Francisco police chief, to the California horse racing commission, was expected today.

O'Brien and John McNaughton, Los Angeles, head of the Los Angeles Union stockyards, were nominated by Gov. Rolph for positions on the important commission late yesterday. Their names were promptly submitted to the senate. There, they were promptly referred to the rules committee.

Senator Harry Parkman, it was learned, planned to oppose O'Brien's appointment. Rolph himself admitted he was aware of Parkman's opposition.

O'Brien has been director of penology—Rolph appointed—since 1930. Still later he was appointed assistant director of the motor vehicle department. He has been a close personal friend and political ally of the governor for many years.

Gov. Rolph informed the senate in a message he would appoint the third member of the commission—this appointment must be an acknowledged horse breeder—later. He indicated he had not yet reached a decision on this nomination.

SERVICEMEN BATTLE BEACH NINE SUNDAY

AL's Auto Service travels to Costa Mesa tomorrow to meet Newport Beach in the second game of the last half of the Orange County Summer baseball league.

Joe Cornelius, Mallett and Erwin all will be available for mound and infield duty, with infielders Farley, Cook, J. Beat.

"Mickey" LeBarb returns to the lineup for catching duty after being absent several weeks. Al Trapp, who has been nursing a sprained back, will be ready also. The Santa Ana outfielders are N. Beat, L. Fredricks, L. Kneeland and G. Fredricks.

GROWERS OPPOSE STATE WINE TAX

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—(UP)—The Grape Growers League of California today expressed opposition to the proposed state wine tax as likely to "stifle the state's second industry just as it sees daylight after 10 years of abject poverty."

The tax, as proposed by Assemblyman Clare Woolwine, Los Angeles, would begin at 3 cents and reach $1 a gallon on various classes of wines and distilled spirits.

Couple Issued License In Reno

Helen May, of Santa Ana, and Willard R. Deaton, of Amity, Calif., took out a marriage license in Reno, Nev., today, according to a United Press dispatch to The Register.

SOCIETY GIRL AND ROOSEVELT TO WED TODAY

Mrs. Googins will wear white georgette.

In case of rain the ceremony will be conducted on the sun porch adjoining the floral garden.

Young Roosevelt and his sister were taken on a midnight tour of the city by Mr. and Mrs. Swiler upon their surprise arrival here late at night.

Elliott still was asleep this morning when plans for the ceremony were revealed.

According to Mrs. Dall, the two stopped at Princeton, Ill., and had a light lunch before continuing their drive here.

Roosevelt and Miss Googins posed for newspaper photographers in the garden of the Swiler home. Roosevelt was in a white linen suit and Miss Googins wore a light summer dress.

Mrs. Dall wore a printed flowered dress, and at first refused to be photographed, saying, "It isn't my wedding." Finally she was persuaded to pose with the two principals.

Miss Googins said she detested all the excitement, but "of course I'm thrilled about marrying Elliott."

Mrs. Dall plans to return to New York tonight, and the bride and groom plan to leave by train for Los Angeles.

DISCUSS PLAN FOR STATE PARK AT SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH, July 22.—Mayor E. J. Hughes, councilmen A. E. Walker and Festus Steen, and Victor Hayes, engineer, met with A. B. Day, president, and other officials of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation at Los Angeles last week to discuss the use of the company's property between Ocean avenue and the tidelands and abutting the San Gabriel river flood control outlet, for the proposed state park here.

Members of the city council state that the State Park commission considers favorably the Seal Beach site as the location of the state beach park; if the site is selected, it will be necessary to make some arrangements with the power company for the use of their property. According to those who attended the meeting, the company is willing to cooperate with the city and the state park board; officials of the company assured the council that suitable plans could be worked out.

Plans were also presented by representatives of the city for a jetty parallel to the flood control outlet to handle the water from the cooling system of the plant. At present, the sand which is deposited along the flood control jetty is washed back to sea by the current from the cooling system outlet. It is said that this condition will be remedied shortly by the power company and the county of Los Angeles.

MORE THAN 100 ATTEND PICNIC

COSTA MESA, July 22.—Over 100 people, friends and members of the church school of the local Community church, enjoyed the day Friday at Irvine park. The crowd was made up principally of the children of the primary and junior departments. The forenoon was spent in boating and hiking.

A potluck dinner, served at noon, was followed by the playing of games. Two base ball games were played. The boys playing with the girls with a tied score in the sixth inning, decided to play off the tie next year. The boys playing the men lost by a few points.

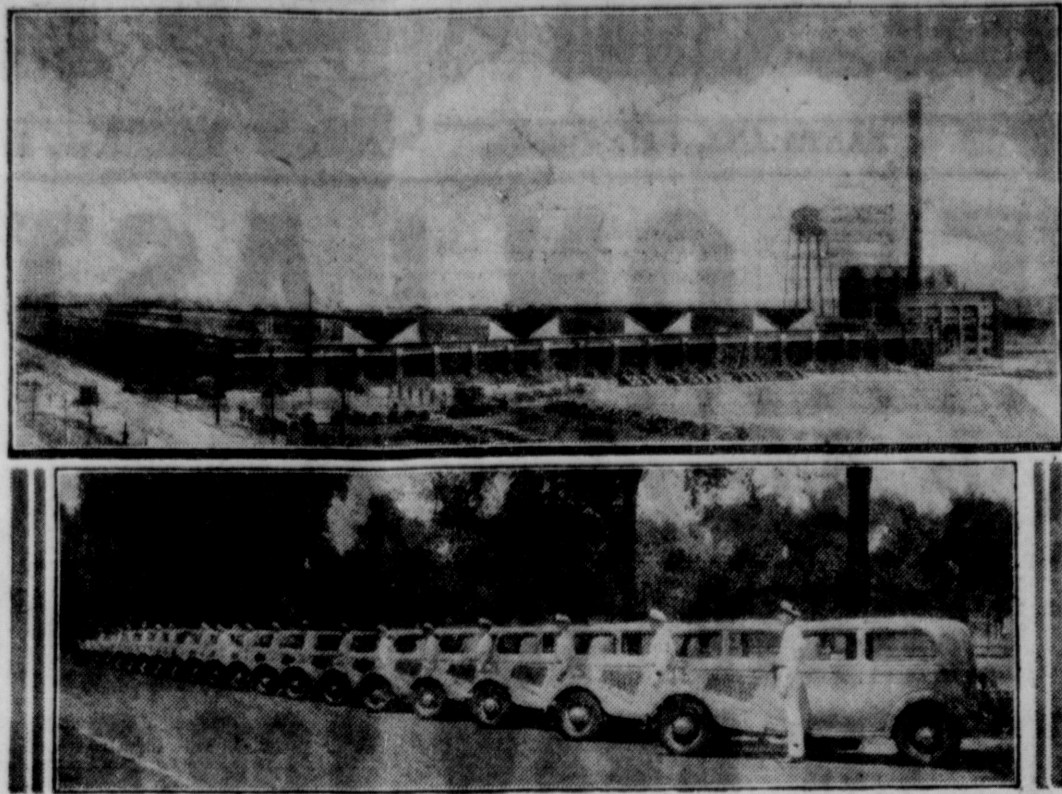

The picnic is the annual fiesta of the church school. The Reverend Grow S. Brown, the school superintendent, was in charge of the arrangements. The Rev. W. I. Lowe, pastor of the church lead in community singing before the dinner and gave the invocation.

Firemen Hold Meet In Anaheim Park

MIDWAY CITY, July 22.—Members of the Midway City Volunteer Fireman's Association had an evening together with their families at Anaheim park, where they took luncheon Wednesday evening and afterward attended a ball game.

The attendance was not large owing to several conflicting affairs that evening, but those present had a most enjoyable time. In the party were Fire Chief Harold Robertson, Mrs. Robertson and their two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and son, Dr. and Mrs. Russell L. Johnson and children, Henry Schmidt, Mrs. Mary Boden and daughter, Dorothy; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Houllahan.

FAIR VISITORS INVITED TO SEE FORD PLANT

WALT WINCHELL KNOCKED DOWN BY AL JOLSON

A second blow caught Winchell in the back of the neck, knocking him down.

With that, the comedian returned to his seat and Winchell continued to his. The packed house, sprinkled with motion picture celebrities, sat goaded-eyed about it. A tremendous ovation followed Jolson when he left the stadium before the fight card was over.

Jolson told the United Press Winchell's scenario, "Broadway Through a Keyhole," purports to describe his romance. The story was sold to Darryl Zanuck's Twentieth Century Pictures, several days ago. It calls for gangster roles.

Winchell denied he purposely paralleled the story with Jolson's romance.

"It could fit another Broadway romance I know of," the columnist told the United Press. "There is nothing offensive about it. All the principals come out clean."

The unprogrammed incident was no laughing matter to the famous "mammy singer," however.

"When my wife read that Winchell had sold the story, she couldn't sleep," Jolson said. "She became hysterical. I was so sore about it that when I saw him come down the aisle, well, I just smacked him down a couple times. I am sorry it had to happen there but I'm not sorry I did it."

He spoke bitterly against the "power of Winchell ink," and said he would protest to Will Hays, motion picture head, today against permitting the film going into production. If Hays refused to intervene, Jolson said he would take court action.

"I'll do everything possible to stop it," he said.

WORLD TRAVELER SPEAKS AT MEET

FULLERTON, July 22.—Young people of the Fullerton Baptist church had a particularly enjoyable evening yesterday when they met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Boyer at Sunset Beach for a picnic supper, an evening of sports and a lecture by J. E. Donaldson, world traveler.

The young people went to the beach at 4 p. m. They spent the balance of the afternoon swimming, boating and hiking. After supper the speaker showed pictures and told stories of the unusual places of the world, including points in the near East, and in the usually untouched parts of Japan.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Boyer and son, Rowe, Willis Manual, Lois McManan, Jimmie Pickering, Robert Carter, Flora McVeigh, Lydia Gage, Eleanor Tate, Thomas Saine, Dorothy Becker, Marian Becker, Wilma Strawn, Maynard Scribner, Minnie Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Flynn, Lloyds and Paul Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sutton, Mildred Gage and Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson.

DAVE HUTTON GETS HEALTHY APPLAUSE

LONG BEACH, Cal., July 22.—(UP)—Crooner Dave Hutton, Jr., crooned through his act at a Long Beach theater today without one of his most luxurious "props."

The estranged husband of Almee Semple McPherson-Hutton was relieved of the expensive limousine in which he had proudly ridden to the theater twice daily since his debut as a professional vaudeville entertainer Thursday. The machine was retrieved by a sheriff's deputy, acting for officials of Angelus Temple who declared it belonged, not to Dave, but to the parish.

Hutton's act was still reported to be a good drawing card.

FORD FLEET USED AT FAIR EXHIBIT

Visitors to the Century of Progress Fair in Chicago are invited to visit the Chicago Assembly plant of the Ford Motor company and for their convenience, the company has opened a display and reception room in the Congress Hotel annex on Michigan boulevard.

A fleet of Ford V-8 cars are available to the fair visitors who wish to visit the plant. Transportation is free between the Fair and assembly plant and also includes a ride through Jackson park where the World's Fair of 1893 was held.

Cards of introduction to officials in charge of the Ford reception room will be furnished by George Duntun, Santa Ana Ford dealer.

DEMPESEY PROPOSES L. A. BOUT FOR BAER

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey and his bride, the former Hanna Williams of stage fame, transferred their honeymoon to Southern California today.

The couple arrived last night, "happy, busy and glad to be back home."

They plan to remain here more than a week during which time Dempsey will cast his eyes about with a possible view of promoting a heavyweight bout in which Max Baer would be one of the featured performers.

Dempsey said Baer's next logical opponent was Primo Carnera but if a bout couldn't be arranged with the heavyweight titleholder, the Livermore lothario would battle Max Schmeling or Battling Levinsky. The fight may be held in California, Dempsey said.

"Baer won't fight for nothing," Dempsey added. "He didn't get much for fighting Schmeling but if he fights him again he'll get as much as the German got the first time."

He believed a Baer-Schmeling or Baer-Levinsky fight would prove a good drawing card in Los Angeles.

TALBERT

TALBERT, July 22.—Mrs. A. Jansma who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Folkert, leaves Saturday to be absent about six weeks, the vacation to include first a week's stay with friends at El Monte, after which she will leave with other friends by auto for her former home in Montana. Mrs. Jansma expects to remain in the East one month.

Sunday was spent by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gisler and family at Mrs. Walter Gisler and family at San Juan Hot Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kerr and son, Walter, accompanied by Delbert Nixon, of Whittier, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Kerr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pettitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee White who for some years have resided in the Helm tract, have moved to the vicinity of Alhambra where they have gone into the poultry raising business. Mr. and Mrs. Whittens son and family whom they have been expecting to return from Texas, have not yet come, owing first to the wife's illness then the husband's.

The Russell Robb family who, with a group of relatives and friends are vacationing at Yosemite, are having a wonderful time, according to word received from them.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Walker who for a number of years were local residents, have moved to the former McQuistan ranch, north of town and are going into the dairy business. Their son-in-law and daughter are with them. The Walkers have resided near Riverside for several years.

John Shrode, brother of Mrs. M. L. Thurman, visited his local relatives Monday. He is at present in Santa Ana from the family home near Santa Maria during the absence of Mrs. Shrode who is in Arizona with their youngest daughter, Mrs. Nettie Morgan, who has had a serious operation performed. A wire from his wife Monday gave the good news that the operation was a success.

earlier in the day only to counsel delay last night.

Cloudsley, normally quiet and even tempered, took exception. Bitter words flew back and forth. Finally Cloudsley shouted:

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. Latham should be ordered not to repeat that statement; otherwise I'll go over and take him by the neck."

At this juncture the sergeant-at-arms moved up the assembly aisle and placed himself between the two men. The speaker hammered violently for order. Finally peace was restored and assembly business resumed.

Expected onset of amendments were, for the most part, defeated. Proposed exemption of purchases by government agencies was beaten. Los Angeles' delegation was largely responsible for defeat of San Francisco's on this issue.

Assemblyman B. J. Feigenbaum, San Francisco, offered and then withdrew an amendment lowering the rate to 2 per cent.

Cloudsley led two fights to bring a vote on the farm bureau's income tax measure. It provides for a tax based on the federal income act, but only one-third the rate, with an estimated biennial revenue of $15,000,000.

Failing in both, the Stockton assemblyman was set today to renew his attempts. Passage of the bill was probable. It will meet stern opposition, however, in the rural senate.

ORANGE PERSONALS

SOLONS TO TAKE UP MORGAN BEER BILL

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 22.—(UP)—The senate judiciary committee was expected to reconsider today the Morgan beer bill, a proposal to permit sale of 3.3 per cent beverages inside the one-mile deadline surrounding the University of California.

The committee killed the bill once on the ground it was improper legislation to consider during the emergency midsummer session. Representations of its author, Albert Morgan, Alameda, impelled the decision to reconsider the measure.

Berkeley's electorate at the June 27 election endorsed the proposition of permitting 3.2 per cent beer sale inside the deadline.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Barnett and children, Frances, Earl, Charles and Margaret, of El Modena, left today for San Antonio, Tex., Arizona and New Mexico, where they plan to spend the next few months.

Mrs. Fred Kellogg and small son, James Frederick, of Fresno, are spending several weeks here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Gilron, North Shaffer street.

Mrs. F. W. Grumm, 615 East Palmyra avenue, and her son, the Rev. Arnold Grumm, Fargo, N. D., have returned here, having spent several days at La Canada with Ewald Grumm.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Blake, 1130 East Collins avenue, have returned home from Santa Barbara, where they spent the past few days.

Members of the Alice Lewis Guild of First Presbyterian church will meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church. The time will be spent in sewing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Adams and daughter and son, Miss Betty and Kearney Adams, 132 South Clark street, accompanied by Miss Image Caster of this city, plan to leave Saturday evening for Yosemite, expecting to arrive there early Sunday morning. They are to be gone for two weeks.

Miss Irene Gates, North Center street, has returned from Nujavo, Calif., where she spent the past few days.

Mrs. W. H. Lowry and daughters, the Misses Mary Katherine and Elizabeth, 460 North Orange street, and Mrs. A. C. Lutz, 521 North Batavia street, are spending several days at Strawberry Flats.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Bivens, 536 East Maple avenue, has as houseguests, their daughter, Mrs. Malcolm Kilgore and son, Malcolm Jr., of Grant's Pass, Ore.

Luncheon guests Thursday in the home of Mrs. Mary E. Chase and her daughter, Mrs. Gordon F. Clark, 349 North Cambridge street, were Mrs. James Shepherd, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Leggett of Long Beach and Mrs. Charles Harden of Anaheim.

The Misses Marjorie and Thelma Seely and Miss Genevieve Christiansen of Orange, and Mrs. Henry Lange of Santa Ana, spent Friday at Corona del Mar.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Christiansen and daughter and son, Miss Genevieve and John Christiansen, 154 South Citrus street, plan to go to Hollywood Sunday evening to see the hi jinks broadcast from Warner Brothers' studio.

Mrs. A. D. Bishop, Fairhaven avenue, entertained as guests Thursday, Miss Nelle McGann and Mr. and Mrs. James McGann and children, Arline and Jimmie, of Los Angeles.

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT

Studying the stars is important; we have not yet measured their influences upon us. Our lives are as vital as the study of the movement of the earth with its pressures, its shakes, its creepings and tippings.

While you rightly watch the influences from outside your life, give chief attention to controlling and purifying the impulses which dominate from within. Seek for guidance and power from Him who gave you life. Bear in mind the certainty that you are to live forever.

CRAWFORD—In Tustin, July 22, 1935, Alice E. Crawford, aged 57 years, died at her home, a resident of Orange county and Los Angeles since 1887. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Ella J. Crawford; a brother, Byron A. Crawford; three nephews, Dudley, William and Kenneth Crawford; and one niece, Janet Crawford. Funeral services will be held Monday at 10 a. m. from Smith and Tutill funeral home, Sixth and Broadway, with the Rev. O. Scott McFarland officiating.

BARKER—Funeral services for Le Roy Barker, who passed away July 21, 1935, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Alice Van Horn, 319 West Seventeenth street, will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Hartz and Brown funeral home, 1126 West Seventeenth street, the Rev. William S. McDougall officiating. Services at the grave under the auspices of Tustin Knights of Pythias lodge No. 85, interment in Fairhaven cemetery.

DISCUSSION ON ARMORY FUNDS HELD JULY 30

Expectation of receiving federal funds for a new armory for the National Guard were increased today with the receipt of a telegram from Adjutant General Seth Howard which asked local officials to hold up all negotiations for a lease on the American Legion armory until a meeting on July 30.

Original plans called for work on the old building on North Birch street to start at once, providing the National Guard was given permission to sign a five-year lease for quarters in the building. Howard's telegram will suspend all negotiations until the Los Angeles meeting on July 30, at which time the question of receiving federal funds for an armory will be discussed.

The city council has agreed to give the National Guard land for an armory north of the Municipal bowl if money can be secured with which to build the structure. When it appeared probable that no funds could be secured, American Legion officials planned to enlarge the present armory, damaged by the earthquake, and pay for the loan from the rental to the National Guard.

Howard's telegram explained that final decision on where the National Guard would have headquarters hinged on the matter of federal funds.

It was reported today that if federal funds are secured for the armory, American Legion officials might decide to sell the present armory site and also locate their building near the bowl. There is sufficient room on Eighth street north of the bowl for both buildings, it was pointed out.

The new armory, if funds are secured, is expected to cost about $50,000 and provide for three units of men. Company L and Headquarters company, Third Battalion, are now stationed in Santa Ana and the new building would take care of future expansion.

EXTREME CRUELTY CHARGED BY WIFE

Alleging that her husband is in Folsom prison serving a term for burglary and accusing him of extreme mental and physical cruelty, Mrs. Anna Pearl Johnson has filed suit for divorce from Joseph V. Johnson.

The Johnsons were married February 9, 1913, in San Angelo, Texas, and were separated March 17, 1931. They have three children, adopted by relatives living in Phoenix, Ariz.

Johnson, according to his wife's complaint, was sentenced to prison from Orange county October 9, 1931 to serve a sentence for burglary.

She also charged Johnson with striking and kicking her on many occasions and threatening to kill her. She declared in her complaint that her husband has violated the law continually since 1920 and had been arrested frequently. Because of his actions, she alleged it was necessary for relatives to adopt the children.

In addition to a decree of divorce Mrs. Johnson is asking that her maiden name, Anna Pearl Robinson, be restored to her.

ALICE E. CRAWFORD PASSES IN TUSTIN

Alice E. Crawford, 57, a resident of Orange county and Los Angeles since 1887, died at her home in Tustin today.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Ella J. Crawford; a brother, Byron A. Crawford; three nephews, Dudley, William and Kenneth Crawford; and one niece, Janet Crawford.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 10 a. m. in the chapel of the Smith and Tutill funeral home, Sixth and Broadway, with the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church officiating.

DECEPTIVE PACK COSTS GROWER $25

Found guilty of deceptive pack in the sale of strawberries, J. Amamoto, strawberry grower northwest of Santa Ana, was fined $25 in Huntington Beach court Friday. Fifty dollars of the fine was suspended, according to Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs.

According to Inspector Fred French and Deputy Commissioner Wright, who made the arrest, Amamoto was found guilty of packing large berries on top of boxes offered for sale and filling the boxes with rotten and small berries.

Tubbs said this morning that 20 growers have been arrested this season on charges of deceptive pack and have paid fines approximating $500.

John Morrison, arrested for operating an automobile without the owner's consent, appeared before Judge Kenneth Morrison this morning and was sentenced to serve 90 days in the county jail.

ENDORSED

Mrs. D. G. Wetlin, who was given unanimous endorsement of Orange County Democratic Central committee for postmastership at Orange.

3 DEMOCRATS GIVEN BACKING OF COMMITTEE

Meeting in Anaheim last night the Orange County Democratic Central committee endorsed three candidates for government office and reiterated that body's stand on the wage scale being paid workers under the county unemployment relief program.

Mrs. Vera Wetlin, wife of D. G. Wetlin, attorney, and active in Democratic affairs, was given the unanimous endorsement of the committee for the postmastership of Orange. The office will be vacant in December.

Mrs. Wetlin was unanimously endorsed when W. C. Pixley, of Orange, chairman of the sub-committee on investigation and recommendation on postmastership, recommended the endorsement.

With nine candidates seeking endorsement of the committee for appointment as deputy United States marshal, balloting centered on La Verne F. Keller, chief of police at Huntington Beach, and Frank L. Besser, of Santa Ana. Besser was chairman of the Veterans' division of the Democratic campaign before the general election.

In a final vote, Keller was given the committee endorsement over Besser by a one vote margin. Keller received 12 votes and Besser 11. Jules Markel, Santa Ana builder and prominent Democrat, was endorsed as local appraiser under the Home Loan act.

Repeating its action taken several months ago, the committee again adopted a resolution calling on the board of supervisors to increase the schedule of pay for men working on the program being financed jointly by the county, state and federal government.

The resolution introduced by Dan O'Hanlon, of Fullerton, and seconded by Markel, urged that the pay scale be increased from the $2.50 daily wage now being paid to the scale paid in Los Angeles county.

Sam Nau, of Tustin, gave an interesting talk on his recent trip around the world and the committee voted to hold its next meeting in Orange. The next meeting will be held the third Friday in August.

Drivers Escape Injury As Truck And Auto Crash

No one was injured but a truck and trailer were badly damaged Friday, when a car driven by Louis J. Curt, 28, of 1040 Washington avenue, Ontario, crashed into the truck driven by Marvin T. Whitman, 23, of 3342 Lime street, Riverside, on Center street west of Anaheim.

Whitman reported that the other car approached him at a high rate of speed, forced his truck off the road and finally hit the rear of the truck and front of the trailer.

GUARD UNITS OFF FOR CAMP THIS EVENING

Company L, National Guard, and Headquarters company, Third Battalion, will join with National Guard units from Orange and Anaheim and leave Santa Ana tonight at 7:30 o'clock for Los Angeles, where they will entrain for San Luis Obispo for the annual summer training camp.

The Santa Ana group is comprised of 32 men and eight officers, under the direction of Capt. James B. Pettit, Company L, and Lieut. Verne Heckart, Third Battalion. The men will leave Los Angeles at midnight, arrive at camp at 8 a. m. tomorrow and go on 24-hour guard duty at 3 p. m. The men spent today fixing up equipment. The American Legion drum corps will give the companies a sendoff when they entrain.

The Santa Ana men have been supplied with 14 boxes of oranges and five boxes of lemons by packing houses. Oscar Mann, veteran cook of a well known Santa Ana restaurant, will accompany the troops as cook. The encampment will last for two weeks.

The first week will include extended order drill, combat training, musketry training and reviews. The second week, there will be combat training for the company, practice march and overnight bivouac, riot duty tactics, brigade reviews and a bridge field meet Thursday, August 3.

BIG DEMAND FOR CONTEST BALLOTS

An increased demand for ballots was reported from headquarters of the queen of the Fiesta del Oro contest today as the contest entered the final days. The largest flood of ballots since the contest started was reported.

Edith Gallup kept the lead today in the contest with a total of 449,965 votes polled, leaving Margaret Sawyer in second place with 792,685. Rosemary Ashen made a striking gain to climb to sixth place with 538,105 votes.

Helen Louise Markel was third with 725,755 votes; Marjorie Lundebach, fourth with 530,830; Hilda Judd, fifth with 572,975; Evelyn Furtch, seventh with 531,330; Hazel Lee, eighth with 483,250; Marjorie Berkner, ninth with 448,065 votes and Nola Houser, tenth with 404,900 votes.

The queen will be crowned next Thursday night, when the Fiesta del Oro opens. Besides reigning over the fiesta, the queen wins a trip to Chicago.

Six Small Boats, H. B. Well Attached For Unpaid Taxes

One oil well and equipment and six small boats have been attached and impounded by County Assessor James Sleeper for failure of the owners to pay personal property taxes on them.

Yesterday Sleeper attached the well and equipment of Brown and Barkes, at Huntington Beach. Three other wells and equipment listed for attachment were not taken when owners paid taxes and penalties.

During the past three days Sleeper has attached eight small boats in Newport harbor for unpaid personal property taxes. Owners of two of the craft have secured release of their boats through payment of taxes, penalties and charges. The remaining six will be sold at auction next Friday unless the taxes and additional charges are paid, Sleeper said.

Goes To Folsom For Taking Auto

John Starnes, Delhi, found guilty by a jury of theft in connection with the theft of an automobile from the used car lot of the H. D. Doty automobile agency in Orange, was sentenced to prison yesterday.

Starnes, with two previous felony convictions against him, did not apply for probation. He appeared before Superior Judge H. G. Ames yesterday and was ordered sent to Folsom.

Testimony given at the trial revealed that Starnes visited the used car lot of the Doty agency and was given permission to try an automobile that he was considering purchasing. The car was recovered two days later and returned to Doty.

Indoor Sports' Picnic Tomorrow

The second annual Orange County G. Allison Phelps Indoor Sports picnic will be held at Irvine park tomorrow, starting with a basket lunch at noon, it was announced today.

A program will be presented starting at 1 p. m. which will feature many artists who will appear in the Fiesta del Oro in Santa Ana July 27, 28 and 29. Spanish music, dancing and vocal numbers will be presented by Sol Gonzales' troubadours. Hill billys will sing old Western songs. Montie Montana and his educated horse will be a feature of the program. The Indoor Sports orchestra will play on the afternoon program. The appearance of G. Allison Phelps is anticipated. Frank "Master" Simounea will act as master of ceremonies.

ORANGE COUNTY GETS $65,033 AS GASOLINE TAX ALLOTMENT

Orange county has received $65,033.62 as the final quarterly allotment of gasoline tax money for the fiscal year, according to County Auditor William Lambert.

The apportionment just received brings the yearly total income from fuel taxes up to $273,238.89. The total received by the county for fuel and bus taxes combined is $352,946.45. Bus tax apportionments to Orange county for the year totalled $942.81.

Total receipts from these sources for the past fiscal year, according to Lambert, are $53,895.28 less than the amount received for the preceding period.

Fuel tax income from October, 1931, to August, 1932, was $314,831.31. License taxes returned to the county last year $79,185.18 and bus fund money received by the county amounted to $12,655.24 giving the county a total income of $406,751.73 from these three sources last year.

PARADE ROUTE NEXT THURSDAY IS ANNOUNCED

Route of the parade Thursday at 1 p. m. which will open the afternoon program for the Fiesta del Oro, Orange county's second annual historical event, was announced today by John Wilcox, fiesta manager. Constable Jess Elliott will be grand marshal of the parade.

The parade, which will include all kinds of mounted entries, will form on East Fourth street, Santa Ana, west of Garfield street. From the starting point, the stage coaches, floats, covered wagons, chuck wagons, oxen teams and mounted entries will move on Fourth to Parton street and from there to Eighth street. West on Eighth street to Flower and thence on to the Santa Ana stadium for the opening day.

Many famous riders will participate in the opening parade, which will have as honor guest, J. E. Pleasant, Orange county's only surviving "9'er."

Entry blanks for the parade may be obtained at fiesta headquarters, Arcade building, Santa Ana. No automobiles or other vehicles propelled by motor will be permitted in the parade, the idea being to perpetuate the days of '49 and the preceding historical period.

Following the parade, a novelty program will be staged in the stadium. Thursday night a pageant, written and directed by Arthur Collins, will be presented, showing the progress of California from the time of the Indians to the coming of the Americans. Friday night is Spanish night, with a colorful program scheduled. Saturday afternoon the big rodeo will be staged and Saturday night competitive horsemanship events will be featured.

Seek H. B. Man On Kidnaping Count

Police in several states are on the lookout for Anacleto Acosta, Huntington Beach man, who is reported to be speeding to El Paso and Mexico with Juanita Lopez, 16-year-old daughter of Julio Lopez, Seventeenth and Hampshire roads, Huntington Beach.

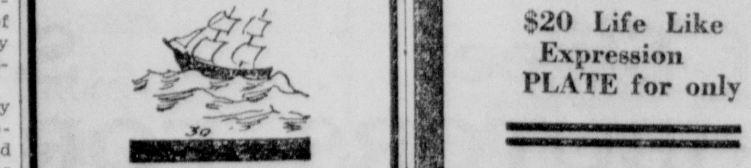

Lopez reported to the sheriff's office this morning that the man kidnapped his daughter and drove away in a green sedan. He is supposed to be headed for Torreon, Mexico, by way of Yuma, Nogales and El Paso. Every effort is being made to arrest Acosta before he crosses the border.

100 Men Sought For Navy Service

Enlistment in the naval service from this district will be resumed during August, with 100 men listed in the quota, it was reported today from the recruiting headquarters at 140 East Seaside avenue, Long Beach.

Eastern recruiting is at a standstill and has caused an increase on the Pacific coast, it was said. Men will be trained at San Diego and must be between the ages of 17 and 25, citizens of the United States and of good moral character.

BROTHERS ARE DEFENDANTS IN SUIT BY BANK

In a suit filed this morning in superior court the First National bank of Santa Ana is seeking an injunction against Saul Rubinstein and his brother, Barney Rubinstein, to prevent removal of a gasoline service station and equipment from property deeded to the bank as security on a promissory note.

According to the complaint, Paul Rubinstein gave the bank a trust deed on February 21, 1929, deeding property in the Rancho Los Coyotes to the bank as security on a promissory note for $4800. The note was dated to mature March 7, 1934.

Under terms of the note, annual payments of $250 were to be made on the principal sum until March 7, 1934, when $5800 would represent the final payment. The payment due in 1930, according to the complaint, has been made, and $150 paid on the 1931 payment, leaving a balance of $4400 due.

The bank alleges in its complaint that Rubinstein and his brother, who has been managing the property, are planning to remove the gasoline station and equipment and chicken coops and such removal, it is alleged, would damage the property and impair security for the note, as the property, without the station, is not worth more than $4000.

DAUGHTERS FILE PROBATE PETITION

Declaring that the estate does not exceed $50,000, Mrs. Mary Grim Heying, of Anaheim, and Mrs. Ruth Grim Minor, Burlingame, have filed in superior court a petition for probate of the will of their father, Charles F. Grim, pioneer Orange county lumberman. Grim died July 12 at his home in Anaheim.

According to the will, dated May 5, 1932, the entire estate is community property surviving the widow, Mrs. Agnes Teresa Grim, half of the real and personal property. The remaining half is to be equally divided between the two daughters.

According to the petition for probate, Grim's estate consists of seven parcels of real property located in Orange and Kern counties, with a value of $19,999 and cash and personal property valued at $30,000. Income from real and personal property was listed at $3000 annually.

ATTORNEYS TO MEET TUESDAY ON HANDBILLS

Uniform handbill ordinances for all cities of Orange county will be the topic of discussion at a joint meeting of city attorneys to be held Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock in the office of City Attorney Clyde Downing in the First National bank building, Santa Ana.

George Holden, city attorney of Anaheim, will preside at the meeting, which is the second to deal with the handbill question. Raymond Thompson of Fullerton will give a report on suggestions given to him during the past two weeks by the attorneys of other cities.

Because of the conflict of ordinances in the various cities considerable confusion has resulted. Santa Ana has had five arrests and convictions in recent weeks for violation of the ordinance.

Downing presented the ordinance of Pasadena for discussion at the last meeting and revisions were suggested. A new statute will be framed Tuesday and presented to the monthly meeting of the Orange County League of Municipalities, which will be held Thursday at Newport Beach. The request for a uniform ordinance came from this body last month and the city attorneys were instructed to investigate the matter.

COUNCILMAN AT LAGUNA MARRIED

Councilman C. R. Clapp of Laguna Beach, and his bride of a few moments had a tumultuous reception when they arrived Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Burns, 523 Through street, for the wedding supper. A fire alarm was turned by Fire Chief P. J. Bushman and three pieces of fire apparatus, members of the volunteer fire company and hundreds of citizens gathered at the scene.

Councilman Clapp, who lives at 152 Hill drive and Mrs. Rosa E. Taylor of 154 Hill drive, who had hoped for a quiet wedding that would prove a surprise, went across the street to the home of the Rev. W. H. White, pastor of the Methodist church, Tustin, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Burns, and Mrs. David Balfour, a neighbor, for the ceremony. After the "knot" had been tied the wedding party proceeded to the Burns home and had just arrived when "bedlam" broke loose.

Guests at the wedding supper included Mr. and Mrs. George Ritchey, Mr. and Mrs. David Balfour, Mr. and Mrs. Allen G. Goff, Miss Margery Burns and Curtis Burns. The couple left immediately after the supper for a honeymoon trip.

OFFICERS LOCATE STOLEN EQUIPMENT

Information supplied by six men convicted of stealing oil well equipment enabled several Orange county companies to recover stolen belts and equipment yesterday in Los Angeles and Long Beach.

Officers from the petroleum detail of the Los Angeles sheriff's office conducted a tour of establishments in Los Angeles and Long Beach for the purpose of identifying stolen goods. At the first Los Angeles stop, 10 stolen belts were found, including one 37 feet long from the Associated Oil company in Huntington Beach, one 31 feet long from the Richfield Oil company in Atwood and one 60 feet long from the Standard Oil company in Brea.

At Long Beach, one 54 foot belt was identified by Powell and Farris of Huntington Beach and one 88 feet long from the Associated Oil company at Huntington Beach. Powell and Farris located a large pump at another Long Beach store and several large "horse-heads" will be returned to other concerns next week.

RICHFIELD WELL UNDER WAY SOON

The well on the Brown-Vejar estate of 408 acres at East Richfield will be spudded in soon, W. F. Brown, of Anaheim, having just completed a 140-foot derrick, the largest in the field.

Brown is getting ready to move in equipment of the heaviest type in the fields with preparations to go to six or seven thousand feet. Brown is said to be backed by one of the large independent oil companies.

Man Ordered To Appear In Court On Fire Charge

D. R. Garretson has been cited to appear in Brea township court Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, charged with burning brush without a license, as the result of a trash fire which got out of his control Wednesday in the northwest part of the county, near the Los Angeles county line.

The fire, which was started in an alleyway near Whittier boulevard and Macy streets, traveled to near the orange groves, scorching them. C. E. Alexander took the state fire truck from Orange. The blaze caused no serious damage, according to Joe Scherman, state forest ranger.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG -- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON
By George Durno

PATRONAGE

If you could walk off the street into the right places here you would see the ravenous bites patronage seekers are taking out of our Federal system.

Preferred lists have been made up in most government departments. Employees not lucky enough to be included get the axe and are replaced by Democrats. The cardinal sin is to be a Republican or be sponsored by one.

A shining example is the Home Loan Bank Board and its subsidiary, the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

RUMPUSS

Even influential Democrats are up in arms about the way patronage is being dispensed in the Home Loan agencies.

They won't say anything out loud because they're afraid some official rumpuss is going to be stirred up about it yet. In the privacy of hotel rooms they shake their heads.

"Something ought to be done," one Party leader said sadly.

William F. Stevenson is chairman of the Home Loan Bank Board and head of the Loan Corporation. Before being defeated as a South Carolina Congressman he was second ranking Democrat on the House Banking and Currency Committee that drafted the bill creating the mortgage setup.

The committee unanimously endorsed Stevenson for a job in it after he became a lame duck.

GRAVY

As soon as the Congressman took hold he declared a "South Carolina Day."

A. E. Hutchinson, who had been Stevenson's secretary for years in Congress, became Secretary of the Board and also the Corporation. He draws pay from both.

This would be against the law anywhere else but the Home Owners' Loan Act was drawn carefully. There are two jokers in the law. One permits payment up to $10,000 from both accounts. The other says the Corporation shall determine its necessary expenditures without regard to the provisions of any previous law governing outlay of public funds. That eliminates the 15 per cent pay cut.

J. A. Hoyt and W. P. Goodman, both from South Carolina, are Assistant General Managers. J. V. Matthews, also from that state, is Assistant to the Chairman.

A couple of South Carolina relatives are in the Chairman's office. So is his former chauffeur.

But why run the list of personnel?

SPOTTER

A lad by the name of James O. Mann is reputed to have made up the "preferred list" of those who were in office when the Democrats arrived.

Mann is from Alabama and has just turned 21 years of age. He was a stenographer but under the New Deal he's Disbursing Officer.

Republicans gave him his original job during the Hoover administration at the earnest behest of Democratic Congressmen.

SHINGLES

Getting jobs isn't the only way Democrats are deriving their just reward.

Quite a few Party wheel horses who carry law degrees in their pockets have moved their shingles to town. Particularly those who were prominent in the early Roosevelt campaign stages are reaping a neat harvest out of NIRA.

Their technique is simple. They become attorneys for a faction of any given industry that wants to dictate the code for all its brethren. Selling themselves is easy on the strength of their reputed access to the White House and friendship with General Johnson.

Once the fat retainer fee is collected they form a new trade association and draw up a code. This code together with their prestige—real or imaginary—is waved in the face of the rest of the industry.

So far it seems to be working. The other factions get scared at the first gesture and come into camp signing the code for submittal.

EMBLEM

General Johnson's idea of establishing a Government emblem for all good industries that submit acceptable codes will add power to NIRA's motive.

With President Roosevelt's approval he will let every industry that has filed a preliminary wage and hour agreement stamp this emblem on its product, its advertising, stationery, trucks et cetera.

The insignia is to be an eagle with "NIRA" above and the legend "We do our part" below.

BALLYHOO

Johnson has just taken Charles F. Horner out of his staff. Horner is the man who organized minuteman speaking tours and other ballyhoo for the Liberty Loan drives.

If things go as the General expects he will have Horner set up the same kind of nationwide campaign to convince the public they should buy only products flying the eagle.

This would amount to a government-controlled boycott but Johnson thinks he can get away with it. He has argued to the President that it would be better than trying the alternative of licensing industry.

He's frankly afraid that any move toward licensing would run him smack into a court injunction. Such an eventuality would tie things up and undo all the good NIRA has done.

NEW YORK RUN-AROUND

By James McMullin

Two New York houses have worked out the neatest method yet of giving the Securities Act the run-around.

They tried it out on a brewery issue. House A underwrote the entire issue but made no public offering or announcement. House B advertised that it was handling the issue.

When prospective customers showed up at House B they were told that the firm had no stock to sell but that—as a special favor to the client—it might be possible to get some from House A. If the customer was interested the transaction was speedily arranged.

Then the confirmation slip from House B made it clear that it was acting as agent for the purchaser—not the seller.

You see the point. House A doesn't come under the Securities Act because it made no public offering and no representations. House B has no liability under the Act because it acted only by request of the purchaser.

Yes, the issue was a big success. Other houses are planning experiments along similar lines.

SECURITIES

Industrial opposition to the Securities Act is beginning to crystallize.

A manufacturer of heavy steel products has unearthed statistics to prove that 45 per cent all goods produced in the United States are capital goods as contrasted with consumers' goods. Apart from replacements the sale of such goods can only be financed normally through capital expansion.

This manufacturer—a publicity expert—believes that the Securities Act places an unfair handicap on businesses like his by making it much harder for corporations to raise capital. He is trying to organize a protest to the effect that the Act will short-circuit recovery.

He isn't interested in having reserves set up to service bank loans.

REPUBLICANS

Inside Republican workers are having a tough time working up a wave of indignation against NIRA's intrusion on "individualism." Some of their staunchest and most powerful allies have deserted the ship.

UTILITIES

Every time the utilities turn around they have something new to worry about. The latest is the development of municipal plants through the public works program.

Many such plants have been in the planning stage for years without the remotest chance of getting financed. Now they can get money almost for the asking if they can prove their plans are worth while.

COTTON

New York insiders do not share the administration's optimism about the cut in the cotton crop. Confidential advices from the South indicate that farmers are beginning to use fertilizer again and to stimulate production on the acreage left. Experts estimate that the average yield per acre on the land still under cultivation will rise from a third of a bale to at least three-quarters of a bale and possibly more. That would more than offset the acreage cut.

SIDELIGHTS

It doesn't pay to call Stock Exchange authorities names. . . . The president of Continental Motors did. . . . That's one reason why his stock was thrown off the Board. . . . It's back again now. . . . Thirty per cent more shares were traded last week than in the biggest week of the 1929 boom. . . . Veterans say the public has never bought its stocks so blindly. . . . One customer ordered ten shares of every stock with the word "American" in its name. . . . The total market value of one alcohol company's stock at present prices is more than $80,000,000. . . . The company's actual current assets are less than $20,000,000. . . . Some call it inflation. . . . Others call it infernal nonsense. Copyright, 1933, McClure Newspaper Syn.

BANK SUES FRUIT HOUSE FOR $520

Suit for $520.48 was filed in superior court today by the Bank of America National Trust and Savings association against the Placencia Orange Growers' association.

According to the suit the amount is due in a crop order given the bank by A. V. Smith on April 24, 1931. The complaint alleges that Smith gave the crop order to the bank, authorizing the Placencia Orange Growers' association to pay to the bank $1500 out of the proceeds of the 1931 orange crop on a place operated by Smith.

The order, according to the complaint, authorized the packing house, in the event the 1931 crop did not return sufficient funds to pay the entire $1500, to take the balance out of proceeds of succeeding crops until the order was paid in full.

According to the complaint on October 20, 1931, the packing house received money in excess of $1500 for the crop on Smith's place and paid $919.52 to the bank and has since refused to pay the balance of $520.48.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL IS CLOSED

The Daily Vacation Bible school of St. Peter's Lutheran church, closed a close Friday morning with exercises and a demonstration of the lessons taught daily. The children sang the songs they had memorized during the five weeks' course, retold some of their Bible and missionary stories, presented their Scripture memory work, and displayed their handwork.

The model village of India with its hospital, school and church, proved to be an attractive feature. Appropriate songs and Bible verses were memorized in connection with the framed pictures. The day's festivities closed with an ice cream and cake treat for the children.

The teachers for the course were the Misses Fern and Helen McFarland, Mary Kraft and Mrs. Charles Tuma, with their junior assistants, Virginia Kastorf, Helen Peterson, Irene Schultz and Zanel-Morton.

White violets grow in some sections of the northern part of the United States; they are called Alba violets or Canadian white violets.

New Reo Features Shifting Without Customary Lever

W. W. Woods, Reo dealer for Orange county, announces the addition of V. W. Baden to the personnel of his new passenger car and truck sales department, located at 615-619 East Fourth street.

Mr. Baden is an experienced automobile man and is particularly well known in this territory having been connected with the industry in Orange county for a number of years during which he has made a wide circle of friends both in the industry and among the motorists.

Incidental to the announcement of the increase in his sales force Mr. Woods states that with the introduction of the new Reo with its abolishment of the gear shift lever and development of its self-shifting device which does away with all the necessity and attendant inconveniences of gear shifting, there has been a very remarkable interest manifested among motorists.

"In this self-shifter Reo has pioneered with what I believe to be the one thing that motorists have been looking for more than anything else," says Mr. Woods. "It adds to the safety, the comfort, the carefree certainty of driving, gives an abundance of room for three people in the front compartment, saves wear and tear on mechanism, will develop new drivers among those who have never been able to master the technicalities of the ordinary method of shifting and makes of every driver a genuine expert."

Plan Meetings For Tabernacle

Santa Ana Gospel tabernacle at Sixth and French streets, has announced services for every night during the coming week, beginning with Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock, when the Rev. Mr. Lovik will preach. He has announced as subject for Sunday night, "What Place Had Witnessing (or What the Oxford Group Called Sharing) in the Early Church?"

In connection, the speaker will give his personal impression of the Oxford movement. Subsequent meetings of the week will follow a different line, and in place of the usual sermon, will be open discussion of Biblical subjects and the answering of any questions propounded. Emphasis has been laid on the fact that arguments will be avoided, but all questions will be given a fair and thoughtful consideration.

MURDER MYSTERY OPENS NEXT WEEK AT STATE THEATER

Of course it is a trick of the scenario writer to turn the tide of suspicion in a murder mystery towards the wrong persons, but so expertly have the writers in "The Death Kiss," the studio murder mystery which plays at Walker's State theater next Wednesday and Thursday, diverted suspicion from the real murderer, that it is not until the final scene that the audience gets a hint of his real identity.

Practically every member of the cast of "The Death Kiss" enters a role connected with some phase of motion pictures, either as a player for the "Tonart Studios" or as a studio employee. In turn the leading lady (Adrienne Ames); a scenario writer (David Manners); the studio manager (Bela Lugosi); the president (Alexander Carr); and the others, are suspected of being the murderer of Myles Brent, popular Tonart leading man. Not until the final five minutes of the story is any clue divulged of the real killer's identity, and it would be unfair to those who are planning to see "The Death Kiss" to let the secret out."

SUPPLY HOUSE ROBBED

Breaking into a closed supply house on the property of the Oil Well Supply company in Huntington Beach, thieves removed electrical and plumbing fixtures sometime during the past 10 days or two weeks.

There are more than 600 broadcasting stations in the United States.

Urges All Individual and Fleet Owners of Automobiles to Have Their Cars Tested on SAFETY LANE Next Week. Watch the Register for More Details

EXACT DUPLICATE OF LETTER SIGNED BY CHIEF OF POLICE FLOYD HOWARD

CITY OF SANTA ANA
ORANGE COUNTY, CALIFORNIA

OFFICE OF
FLOYD W. HOWARD
Chief of Police
Phone 217

Attention, Citizens of Santa Ana

In connection with the National Safety contest, in which Santa Ana has been entered this year, the Police Department is inaugurating and conducting another "Safety Lane—Safety First Week" this year, in an effort to further reduce traffic accidents, and promote safety conscience in our community.

Last year's "Safety Lane-Safety First Week" was a wonderful success and the response by the drivers of automobiles was very gratifying and convinced me that the motoring public of Santa Ana are endeavoring to keep their cars mechanically perfect.

I again urge all individual and fleet owners of automobiles to have their cars tested on Safety Lane during Safety Week, an assurance of Safety for the motorists and pedestrians of Santa Ana and community.

Yours for the Safest City in the United States.

FLOYD W. HOWARD, Chief of Police.

TRICKS THAT HELP TO MAKE A BEACH GIRL ALLURING

HERE'S a gay new swagger cape which does all kinds of new tricks. Note the girl's left arm. It's in the sleeve of her swagger cape. But she also can turn the cape into a fine-looking pair of slacks. The sleeve becomes the right leg, and to make the left she just wraps the cape about her leg. For sun-bathing, with or without a bathing suit, she pulls up a little halter effect, thereby holding the cape safely about her, and wraps the rest around her waist, leaving her back bare to the sun and getting a nice even tan. Of course, it is also quite easy to imagine our smiling mermaid wearing these brilliant beach slacks and top—all one, you remember—without the extra bother of a bathing suit. And why not? The ayes have it unanimously. When she swims, she gets wet. And when she gets wet she must get dry. So she merely spreads the swagger cape flat on the beach. It lies perfectly flat and becomes a useful beach mat.

THERE'S MORE THAN ONE WAY TO POACH AN EGG

WHEN the thermometer keeps running up and your spirits keep running down, try poached eggs for lunch or supper. They are simple, good and save you lots of kitchen work and worry. With a little "fixin'" they can appear at table as the main course for a hot day meal.

Plunge  $\frac{1}{2}$  package of fine noodles in a large kettle of rapidly boiling salted water. When tender, drain off most of the water. Add butter, 2 tablespoons grated cheese, pepper and 2 tablespoons rich milk. Cover and steam for 15 minutes.

Now poach your eggs. Drop them in salted boiling water, and at once turn down fire to keep water very hot but under the boiling point.

When the yolk is nicely covered, place eggs attractively on the bed of noodles.

For Sunday night, when guests drop in unexpectedly, try this. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in a saucepan. Add  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt and a little pepper. Slowly blend in 2 tablespoons flour.

Then slowly stir in 2 cups milk. Keep stirring until all lumps have vanished.

Then add  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup well-washed canned shrimp cut into small pieces and, if you have them,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup canned mushrooms. Next poach your eggs, lay them on hot, buttered toasted English muffins, and pour the sauce over them.

Have you 2 cups of cooked, chopped spinach on hand? Well, Eggs Florentine is what you

WOMEN OF 40 ARE APT TO LOSE THEIR HEADS

By Mrs. Penrose Lyly

THERE'S usually a physical flurry in women of 40 which puts emotional danger in their paths. Many times they lose their heads and fall in love with boys no older than their sons. Havoc, dishonor and disillusion always follow.

These are the observations of Ishbel Ross, a seasoned newspaper woman. She has covered some of the most notorious divorce cases in American matrimonial history, among them being the Stillman "Indian Guide" scandal, the W. E. D. Stokes triangle, and the Peaches Browning sensation. Ishbel Ross knows her women.

She was born near Inverness, Scotland. She is married to the city editor of an American newspaper, although she works for a formidable rival. She has written three novels, the latest being "Marriage in Gotham." This traces the utter ruin of a respectable, socially prominent family when the mother, a woman around 43, falls madly in love with her son's college friend and her daughter's fiance.

Ishbel Ross

"The reputation American women have abroad for sensational love affairs," this youthful Scotch-American observer says, "is really due, I think, to their inability—or perhaps unwillingness—to carry on surreptitious love affairs."

"In Europe, a woman carries on a love affair with amazing discretion. Rarely does any one find out about it. But in the United States, the moment a girl or woman sees a man she likes better than her husband, she dashes off to the divorce court."

"She seems to possess some child-like optimism—the next marriage is certain to be the perfect one. But foreign women are a little more realistic about marriages and love than American women are, you see."

The number of American women of 40 who (because of some younger man) divorce their husbands, amazes her.

"The effect of such divorces is terrible on young girls who watch their mothers' antics. I think," she says, "that this easy and sensational divorce business explains why so many girls marry right out of college, today. They have seen that if they don't like the first man, it's easy enough to get rid of him and try, try again."

"Idleness and boredom impress me as the two most dreaded things in this country. I have covered many famous divorce cases, and in practically all of them, the first cause of trouble was not another man, but boredom."

"That's why I am so enthusiastic about my own marriage. My husband and I are both terribly busy. In fact we are friendly competitors. And the funny thing about it is," she says, smiling, "that we met when we were both assigned to the Stillman case."

HOW TO GET THREE COSTUMES OUT OF ONE SIMPLE FROCK

ONE simple white summer sports frock of silk crepe or linen may be varied to form three different costumes by adding different accessories and jackets.

In the sketch, the frock is worn at the left as an active sports costume. With it are worn a gay striped bandanna and a belt of the same material, which gets added attractiveness from a huge circular buckle.

At the extreme right it makes an admirable spectator sports or street costume with the addition of a plaid linen swagger jacket and a tiny knitted cap repeating the colors of the plaid.

In the center a more formal afternoon costume is formed by the addition of a three-quarter loose jacket of black linen and a severe white sailor with a black band.

Be Sure Your Legs Are Well Groomed If You're Going to Expose Them

STOCKINGS are off for the summer. Legs, smooth and free of blemish, are moving right out front in the beauty show.

And there's room for every one. Yes, those girls who suffer from varicose veins, roughened skin or other leg blemishes, can throw away their stockings, too, and join the stockingless crowd at tennis, skating, cycling, hiking, and even along the avenues in the city, where bare suntan legs and white walking shoes are in vogue.

There's a new preparation which will hide all blemishes on otherwise seductive limbs in no more than five minutes. It forms a perfect surface over the skin. It comes in shades called light, dark and evening, to be used according to the degree of suntan you have achieved and to the time of day.

It takes the place of chiffon evening hose quite nicely, and gives you freedom from that "perspiry" feeling about the top of your stocking. Altogether, this new beauty film is quite a dainty little trick.

This is the way to use the new preparation. Squeeze a small quantity into the palm of your left hand. Press hands together lightly until palms are covered with a smooth mixture.

Using both hands, smooth the film on your leg skin, starting at the base of the toes and working upward, with quick even strokes, blending as you go. It is necessary to apply the preparation thinly. Use only a small quantity at a time and work in quickly.

You remove this at night with water. And this is important to remember—it is not waterproof, so don't use it for swimming. Grand for lying on the beach in that new linen swim suit, though.

BARBECUE HELD AT UTTER HOME LAST EVENING

ANAHEIM, July 22.—Outside suppers are always one of the charming features of the summer months and especially to be looked forward to, but of their many varieties there is nothing more than the barbecue, which is one of the reasons why Miss Marion Utter, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Utter of West Center street, chose that means of entertaining a group of friends last evening.

The guests were among the very first to use the new pit upon which the steaks were baked and marshmallows roasted at 7 o'clock. The small tables were set beside the new rocky fountain beneath some tall blossoming trees. Each table was centered with a green pottery bowl of lavender hyacinth.

Following the supper the guests enjoyed several rounds of contest bridge before attending the theater. The bridge prize was claimed by Miss Helen Grafton.

The guests included, beside Miss Utter, Miss Jessie Johnston, Miss Nelle Grafton, Miss Martha Adams, Miss Helen Grafton, Mrs. Frederick Kneading and Mrs. Kenneth Walker.

REBEKAHS AND OLD FELLOWS INSTALL HEADS

ANAHEIM, July 22.—Witnessed by 600 guests and members the new officers of both the Lois Rebekah lodge and the I. O. O. F. lodge were installed last night in an impressive service held in the Odd Fellow lodge rooms. Leone Nelson was installed noble grand of the Rebekah lodge and E. R. Webb, noble grand of the brother lodge.

Mrs. Mildred Allen, district deputy president, from Anaheim, with Eva Scott as marshal installed the Rebekah officers. W. H. Cochems, district deputy grand master from Huntington Beach, installed the Odd Fellow officers.

Elective officers for the I. O. O. F. include the following: Leo Fris, outgoing noble grand; E. R. Webb, noble grand; E. S. Evans, vice grand; Eugene Adams, recording secretary; Harold Birchler, financial secretary and Clayton Allen, treasurer.

Clayton Allen was drill master for the evening. The hall was banked with greenery, baskets of flowers and tall lighted tapers. Throughout the ceremony music, appropriate to the occasion, was played.

A social hour followed the ceremony and light refreshments were served.

GUILD WILL HOLD SOCIAL ON MONDAY

ANAHEIM, July 22.—Another of the social summer affairs for St. Agnes Guild of St. Michael's Episcopal church will be given on Monday evening, July 31, when a pot luck supper and bridge party will be held at the home of Miss Helen Grafton, 207 South Kroeger street, at 8:30 o'clock. Miss Martha Adams will assist as hostess.

The garden supper will be followed by a short business session over which Miss Freda Lumsdon, directress, will preside. During the summer months the monthly meetings are devoted mostly to social occasions.

Anaheim Police Notes

ANAHEIM, July 22.—A. S. McKibben and George Chapman, both of Orange, were sentenced yesterday by Judge Frank Tausch, the former receiving a $100 fine or 60 days in the county jail on a drunk driving charge and the latter $25 fine or 12-15 days in jail for intoxication.

EBELL MUSIC CLUB HONORED AT HOME HERE

FULLERTON, July 22.—Mrs. G. Wendell Olson, co-hostess with Mrs. Tripp, Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. Rehl, entertained the members of the music section of Fullerton Ebell club at the beautiful new home of the Olsons on Buena Vista drive yesterday afternoon, where officers for the section were elected.

Mrs. George Rehl is new chairman and Mrs. Monte Porter is secretary-treasurer.

Arrangements for the coming year, were discussed, and it was determined the section will continue weekly meetings for practice, and in addition will meet each fourth Tuesday of the month for study of lives of composers.

Following the business sessions, the guests were served refreshments by the hostesses. Those who attended, besides the hostesses, were Mrs. Graham Hodges, Mrs. Annin, Mrs. Margaret Buttree, Mrs. A. H. T. Osborne, and Mrs. Lottie Tripp.

Mrs. Osborne will be hostess to the group at the first regular meeting the fourth Tuesday of September.

THIEF GETS $8.60 AS FAMILY SLEEPS

Entering the house while the family was asleep, a thief stole $8.60 from C. S. Wright, 316 West First street, sometime last night. Entrance was gained through a back porch window. Wright's trousers were taken from the bedroom and $6.60 removed from the pockets. The intruder also took $2 from a dresser in another room. Mr. and Mrs. Wright did not discover the loss until this morning.

MINISTER LEAVES FOR CONFERENCE

ORANGE, July 22.—Dr. James Edward Dunning, new pastor of the First Methodist church, has gone to Sacramento to attend a conference of California Congress of Farmers and Workers. He was named as a delegate to the convocation at a recent meeting of the Southern California conference of the Methodist church held in Long Beach.

In his absence, Sunday morning services at the Orange church will be conducted by the Rev. F. M. Willis.

Motorist Escapes Serious Injuries As Car Turns Over

Pinned under his car when it turned over after an automobile crash at Seventeenth and Broadway last night at 7 o'clock, Horace Ender, 2126 North Broadway, received only a slight cut on one hand and was able to go to his home.

The Ender machine collided with a new car driven by J. E. Headley, 1006 West Sixth street, well-known automobile dealer. Headley, driving west on Seventeenth street, said that he stopped for the boulevard stop, spoke to a friend on the corner and then had started across the intersection. It was reported that Ender was coming south on Broadway and apparently did not see the Headley machine.

The cars crashed in the center of the street and the Ender machine turned completely over and stopped against a light post on the southwest corner. The car was badly damaged but Ender escaped from further injury because the top did not smash. Headley's car was only slightly damaged.

Three young boys were successful yesterday afternoon in stealing between $3 and $4 from the Adkinson nursery, 1321 North Main street.

While two of the boys asked Mrs. Russell Adkinson to see some cactus plants in the back of the yard, the third youngster emptied the cash drawer and fled. Mrs. Adkinson thought she heard money rattling, went to the office and found the rified drawer. The other two boys also escaped. They were believed to be about 10 years old.

Court Notes

Robert Haines of 2235 East Sixth street, La Verne, was fined $25 for speeding when he appeared before Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday but had $15 suspended.

Margaret Hatch and F. Cartwright paid $11 fines for overtime parking when they appeared in police court yesterday.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, July 22.—Home Builders of the First Christian church are to meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the church for dinner. The affair is being held earlier than usual so that members may attend evangelistic services at 7:30 o'clock in the tent.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Kelsor, 209 South Center street, are spending several weeks at Idyllwild. Miss Madeline Walsh has gone to Iowa to spend several weeks with relatives. She plans to attend the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago.

TWO MEN JAILED

A. S. McKibben, 30, of 185 South Pikeley street, Orange, and George Chapman, 27, of 1705 South Pikeley street, were booked at the county jail last night to serve jail sentences for intoxication in Anaheim. McKibben was sentenced to pay $100 or serve 60 days while Chapman had a $25 or 12-15 day sentence.

Late News From Fullerton And Vicinity

JOINT MEET OF CHURCH GUILD HELD AT BEACH

FULLERTON, July 22.—More than 40 members and guests of the Missionary society and the Guild of Fullerton Presbyterian church, attended the joint meeting at the Boyer cottage at Sunset Beach where Mrs. J. E. Donaldson was hostess.

After a delightful luncheon, served pot-luck, the afternoon was spent at informal discussion.

Miss Margaret Atlee, president of the guild, was in charge of the program. Miss Florence Durkee led the devotional session. Miss Atlee read a prayer. Mrs. Harold Gohar, who with her husband attended the general assembly of Presbyterians at Columbus, Ohio, talked informally on the assembly and on the general trip going and coming.

Mrs. A. C. Terrill discussed the talk Dr. E. Stanley Jones had given in Orange county. Mrs. Switzer also informally talked on that subject, and Mrs. Kerr gave a short talk on the New Mexican Indian mission in which the church is interested.

Mrs. Lena LaRue is president of the missionary society. Next meeting of the Missionary society will be with Mrs. Graham C. Hunter, at their Newport Beach home August 17. Mrs. McCracken of Rose drive will entertain the guild at her home July 31.

COOKER USED BY UNEMPLOYED TO CAN FRUIT

FULLERTON, July 22.—An enormous pressure cooker is in use by Fullerton Unemployed Workers' association at their headquarters at 233 West Santa Fe avenue, made and installed by William Peak, a member of the association.

With use of this cooker, the women of the association are preparing and canning all surplus from the gardens the workers have grown, as well as fruits that are canned by the workers in their services to growers.

This large cooker will accommodate 60 cans at a time, and workers are hoping to place in storage many more cans of fruits and vegetables than they did last year.

In connection with the canning program, a play is being given tonight at the old auditorium of the Fullerton Union High school by the Angeles Kiddies who have just finished a week in a Los Angeles theater. The funds will be added to the treasury for the canning fund.

One production was given this afternoon at 3 p. m.

V. F. W. Auxiliary Is Entertained

FULLERTON, July 22.—The home of Mrs. Leo Fallert, 432 East Amerige, was opened yesterday to the members of the auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars for a pot luck luncheon and an afternoon of sewing. The members of the auxiliary made tablecloths in the afternoon for use at the hall.

Attending were Mrs. Messer of Brea, Mrs. George Walter and Mrs. Borg of Anaheim, Mrs. H. L. Troeller, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. A. L. Koch, Mrs. A. W. Eberhard, Mrs. Grover Walters, Mrs. J. Mumum, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. Canfield, Mrs. Ed Stark and the hostess of Fullerton.

STANDARD BALL PROPOSED FOR EVERY LEAGUE

CINCINNATI, July 22.—(INS)—Sentiment is found to be crystallizing today among several of the National League magnates for a standard baseball, for use not alone in the majors but in the minors as well, this radical suggestion will be introduced at the joint baseball meeting this winter.

The Brooklyn and Cincinnati clubs, weak sisters of the league, who have been hardest hit by the change in pellets, are the main supporters of the idea. The Philadelphia and Cubs, whose hitters have been shackled by the de-rubbed balls, also are believed to favor the plan.

The magnates are being hit where the hitting is felt worst—at the turnstiles. The fading customer turn-out in various spots in the league has reached an alarming state and this consideration may influence supporters to the revived agitation.

The real good hitters of the league—the O'Douls, Wilsons, Hayeses, Waners and the like—are not hitting, because of the deadened horseshoe. The senior circuit not only is losing prestige but also the benefit of spectacular performance coming from a livelier ball and waning attendance figures reflect this loss of caste and outstanding effort.

The move to extend the standard ball to the minors may not strike a responsive chord among the magnates in the lower leagues. The lively pellet, geared up to a most sprightly elasticity, is almost generally in use in the small-time, resulting in swollen batting marks and the sale of likely looking hitting prospects to the majors at fancy prices.

The majors undoubtedly would ask for a new brand baseball in the minors to reduce the element of risk and gamble in their purchase of ivory. But to make this demand, they must first reach agreement among themselves.

LOTT, VAN RYN WIN DOUBLES Stars Blank Oilers In 1-0 Slab Duel

WILCOX DRIVES ACROSS RUN IN SECOND INNING

The metamorphosis of a baseball club seemed to be taking place today. Santa Ana's Stars, the poor relation of the National Night League's first-half, kicked from doorstep to doorstep, were changing from quailing and disheartened second-raters into inspired pennant-contenders with a chip on both shoulders.

Fire with this new zeal, the Stars stepped out last night and shutout Huntington Beach, 1 to 0, in the finest played game this season at the Municipal Bowl.

Whether the transformation is permanent or merely temporary nobody knows, but the fact remains that right now Santa Ana is back in the pennant-hunt, tied for second place and just a stride behind the leading Whittier Poets who are next on the Stars' schedule.

Santa Ana's battery, youthful Wilbur Stinchfield and the shrewd veteran, "Denny" Wilcox, beat Huntington Beach.

Stinchfield did the pitching, Wilcox the catching—and hitting.

Wilcox's Hit Wins Duel

There was only one run made and Wilcox drove it across in the second inning. Ed Daley and Rod Ballard led off with singles.

George Preble popped out trying to bunt and "Chub" Sears fanned, but Manager Wilcox won his own game—and Stinchfield's—with a timely single to left that scored Daley from second.

Otherwise, it was a stubborn pitcher's duel between Stinchfield and "Chico" Sabella, the latter doing well enough to win 99 out of 100 starts. Sabella lost only because his mates couldn't do a thing with Stinchfield's fast ball, eight expiring on strikes and no two of their seven hits arriving in the same inning.

Huntington Beach had two chances to cause trouble, failed both times. Questionable judgment of the Oilers' first opportunity. With one away Schuchardt walked in the second inning and Lower singled. Sabella raised a high foul fly to First Baseman Daley, Schuchardt going to third and Lower to second after the catch. Manager Wilcox ordered Stinchfield to walk Pete Osborn, the league's leading hitter in '32, but Osborn reached far across the plate and popped up to Daley for the third out.

Both Teams Waste Chances

The Oilers wasted another opportunity in the third. After Murray's strikeout, Maness singled. Clemens struck out. Smith singled to center, driving Maness to third. U. S. championship and Stinchfield's throw for Maness. A single cost the Oilers the first opportunity to win.

Later in the game, Rodgers hit safely twice. Santa Ana also muffed a chance, wasting three hits in the fifth. Wilcox led off with a single and Stinchfield sacrificed. Denny then singled. Wilcox holding second. Hill popped out. Merrill's sharp single to right loaded the bases but Daley lofted to Murray for the third out.

Manager Rodgers opened the ninth with a single and Huntington Beach's section came to life with new hope, but young Stinchfield was equal to the emergency. Schuchardt hit on a third strike that he bunted foul, Lower hoisted feebly to Preble, and Conrad, a pinch-hitter, whiffed to end the conflict.

Sacrifice hits—Stinchfield, Sabella. Struck out by Stinchfield, 8; by Sabella, 3. Bases on balls off Stinchfield 2. Umpires—Affleck and Salverson.

Now he may have to go in there on the office rug and convince McKeever and, somehow, I don't think he will.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 22.—(INS)—Earl Campbell, graduate manager of athletics of the University of Washington since 1928, will be dropped August 1 when his present contract expires, it was announced today by Charles Frankland, director of athletics, and virtual dictator of all campus activities.

"There was no provision made for his salary in the revised budget," Frankland stated.

Pete Osborn, leading batter of the league last season, went hitless against Stinchfield's pitching. With two aboard and two away in the second inning, Wilcox decided to pass Pete purposely to get at Murray. But Osborn reached across for a wide pitch and popped it up to Ed Daley.

Thus, Pete wasn't as successful as he drives now go up in the air in a bunt and popped it up to Ed Daley. Three Neva of Torrance who hit a home run and nothing but a home here when Joe Corniluz was deliberately trying to walk him.

Give Results Of City Net Tournament

Final standings for the tenth annual Santa Ana City singles championships were announced today by John Cress, secretary of the Santa Ana Tennis club and sponsor of the event this year.

Lewis Wetherell, 1923 champion, won the tournament without the loss of a match or a set. Toby White finished second, Gil Ward third.

Eugene Robinson won the Class B division, Muryl Hallman the Class C title and Mildred Ward the Women's championship.

CAREY DUE FOR GATE: DODGERS FAIL TO DRAW

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, July 22.—(INS)—There being nothing so calculated to destroy a club owner's composure as a good, old fashioned cavity in the receipts, a lot of people are inclined to fear the worst for Maximilian Carnarius, nee Carey, when he returns to Ebbsville tomorrow with a ball club that can neither win nor draw its professional weight, which seems to be ten pounds lighter than a paper napkin.

Of course, Mr. Steve McKeever, the owner, is already on record as saying that Carnarius is not to be replaced this season. But that was before the Dodgers lost six straight and ten of their last eleven. It also was before the Dodgers reached Cincinnati. Here they found the natives absolutely agog over their opportunity to study away from the distressed Dodgers, with the result that it is estimated that at least one million people went elsewhere with marked resolution every day.

On Wednesday, the Dodgers played to 21,000 empty seats, gave vacantly at the earnest athletes like a polite, society yawn. On Thursday, a marked improvement was noted, there being only 21,500 empty seats out of a possible 25,000. Altogether, the Dodgers were lucky to get out of town with a handful of haircut money and their health, which seems to be excellent, all things considered.

This, as a matter of fact, is a little strange in view of the stories one hears about the Dodgers and their rather unique methods of training, which is a little surprising, too, since Mr. Carey was once a divinity student and ought to be able to convince the young men that clean living and right thinking is the secret of success. But apparently he hasn't.

Now he may have to go in there on the office rug and convince McKeever and, somehow, I don't think he will.

The blood of the thoroughbred Winooka, invader from Australia, goes back to West Australian, which makes him about a fifty-second cousin to Mac o' War....

Kanooka, dam of Winooka, is by The Welkin, from an imported nation by Marco....the name of Marco is familiar to horse folk, as he is the sire of Omar Khayyam, the only imported horse ever to win the Kentucky Derby....the sire of Marco is Barcalaine....and Barcalaine never was beaten in a race.

This pass rule will do much to confuse the defense and increase the scoring. Imagine a back circling a wing, drawing the secondary defense over to stop him, then suddenly putting on the brakes and hurling a mile-long pass to a pal far down the field. Or, taking a line back, straightening up at the line of scrimmage and lobbing a short one over to a companion back!

This will make pro football an offensive game, and a free-scoring, see-saw battle that ought to keep the customers on their toes throughout. The pass rule also is an invitation to trickery and surprise. Coaches throughout the league already have doped out scores of strange shifts, based on the deception this legislation allows.

"Pop" Warner would be right at home in the pro league this year. As it is, his deceitful disciple, Lone Star Dietz, of the Boston Redskins, is pretty sure to have a pleasant and successful season.

GRIDIRON INTERLUDE

The professional footballers have taken a leap and bound on the from the colleges. Changes they have made in the rules during the summer promise a return of old thrills and some new ones added.

First, the pros are moving the goal posts back to the goal line, to a comeback as he won game after game with airtight pitching. The Chicagoans, almost counted out of the race, suddenly began to figure in the heat of the drive. Tinning won eight games in a row. The Cubs regained the poise of champions.

Tinning came to the Cub's when Rogers Hornsby was manager. He had come up from Des Moines with a record as fat as himself, 24 won 2 lost. During most of the Ralash's regime, however, he was kept in the bull pen. When Grimm became manager he gave Tinning a starting assignment and was rewarded with the right answer.

Tinning got into the world series last fall as relief man, and his calm pitching in two crises was admirable. In the ninth inning of the third game, he replaced Jackie May with two men on bases in the ninth. The fat boy disposed of Crosetti and Phipps easily.

Again in the fourth game he was called in when the Yankees ran wild in the seventh inning. The bases were full and there was one out with Lazzari, a dangerous hitter, at the plate. Tinning took Tony's roller and forced Sewell at the plate. Then he struck out Dickey. He followed that up by pitching a scoreless eighth inning, and left the game in favor of a pinch hitter.

If the Cubs finally do reach the top when October comes, Tinning may be one of Grimm's best bets to start a ball game.

CUTS WEIGHT, FATS AVERAGE

Bud Tinning... the rubber shirt does this fat fellow a big favor.

BY BILL BRAUCHER
(NEA Service Sports Editor)

New York, July 22.—A good time was had by all when Lyle "Bud" Tinning reported at the training camp of the Cubs in spring.

Baseball writers called him the Fatty Pothergill of the National League. Stories which pictured Tinning as a baby blimp, a ten-ton truck, an overfed sausage were sent out to amuse the readers. One wrote that Bud needed only some number like 45927 to complete the illusion of a box car.

Tinning ate and ate, and when through eating ate some more. Then Manager Charlie Grimm, after scanning the grocery checks, ordered a moratorium on mastication. Tinning was placed on a diet. He was given a rubber shirt to be his constant companion.

Serious things began happening to the Cubs, and Tinning was lost to public scorn for a time. Cuyler snapped a bone, Grimm came up one morning with a lame back that would not unwind itself, Babe Herman went into a talpish. There were many things to write about besides Tinning's tonnage.

Tinning took off the pounds, one by one and as he shed the superfluous flesh he began to pitch better ball. After he had won three games in a row, the scorekeepers started to forget that he looked like Falstaff.

He inspired his brother Cubs to a comeback as he won game after game with airtight pitching. The Chicagoans, almost counted out of the race, suddenly began to figure in the heat of the drive. Tinning won eight games in a row. The Cubs regained the poise of champions.

Tinning came to the Cub's when Rogers Hornsby was manager. He had come up from Des Moines with a record as fat as himself, 24 won 2 lost. With their pitching and hitting genius, Louie Neva, on the bench because of a badly twisted ankle, "Spud" Murphy's Torrance's Torrance, early first-half champions, were slaughtered by George Lackaye's Westerners. Aviators at Torrance last night. The score was 17 to 2.

Earl Morrill had the Torrance's at his mercy after the second inning when Dan Leonard's double scored two. The cagey veteran made the Torrance home run hitters pop up feebly, limiting the side to six hits.

Roy Robinson started for Torrance but his slow ones failed to fox the Flyers who knocked him out of the box and continued their assault on Hal Forney who came in from right field to finish the task.

Floyd Montgomery, Santa Ana football star, made his National League debut an impressive one by rapping a homer with the bases full in the fifth. Clarence Haples, giant Westminster catcher, tripped with the bags loaded in the sixth, and did the same thing in the seventh. Westminster scored five times in the fifth, four in the sixth and five in the seventh. This was the worst drubbing Torrance has taken all year.

Third Sacker Cecil Sauer got five hits, tying the season's record.

BOOK REVIEWS

By MARY BURKE KING

Our Movie Made Children by Henry James Forman, published by the MacMillan company.

The motion picture research council, operating under the Payne fund, an organization interested in the radio, motion pictures, and reading in relation to children and youth, has elevated the reaction of children to motion pictures from the field of speculation, albeit founded on observation, to that of fact.

From 1929 to 1932 the motion picture research council conducted thorough studies of children, and adolescents and the movies. The investigations organized a program of research and delegated to members of the group the responsibility for studying one or more problems in the field in which they were competent. These various studies were carried on independently. Those doing the investigating were not expected to coordinate their findings and make pronouncements on the movies.

Twelve independent investigations were made of the content of motion pictures, children's attendance at motion pictures, the emotional responses of children to the motion picture situation; motion pictures and standards of morality; motion pictures and the social attitudes of children; relationship of motion pictures to children's sleep, movies and conduct; movies, delinquency and crime; boys, movies and city streets and how to appreciate motion pictures. The material amounted to in excess of 3000 pages. It was the basis for this book "Our Movie Made Children."

W. W. Charters, chairman of the committee on educational research of the Payne fund, was asked to write a summary of the studies in a monograph of the series. Henry James Forman, the author of this book, was charged with the task of preparing a popular summary which is this book.

The popularity of the book has been great. It is being widely read for the importance of the original report had been heralded in various magazines and people are apparently awakened to the influence of the movies on the children. This is impressive from two angles. On the one hand is the evil influence at present being exerted to an alarming degree by the movie and on the other hand is the possibility for good influences in the lives of children which at present is being utilized to a limited degree.

"Children retain on the average 70 per cent of what adults retain after seeing films," says Mr. Forman. "The children...retain much more from a film than, prior to these experiments, any of us would have given them credit for."

Seventy-seven million is the average weekly attendance at the movies. Of this number the investigators estimate 37 per cent are juveniles. In figures, 28,259,000 minors attend the movies weekly and one-sixth of the entire movie audience is under the age of 14.

"Out of 500 pictures in 1929," states Mr. Forman, "eighty-two per cent dealt with the three major themes of crime, sex and love; in 1926, 79 per cent were preoccupied with these themes, and in 1929, 72 per cent. Of children's pictures there were only four in 1925, and only one out of 500 in 1930."

"Always remember," we read in the summary of the book, "that certain excellent pictures are from time to time produced, as witness 'The Covered Wagon,' 'Ben Hur,' 'Grass,' 'Abraham Lincoln,' 'Arrowsmith.'"

Stoddard and Holaday, two of the investigators, estimate that pictures play a considerably larger part in the child's imagination than do good books.

Facts have been made known by this study. The next step is to do something about it, says Mr. Forman in conclusion. Proposals for the realization of the great possibilities of the movies will be suggested probably by the public reaction to this book and the material upon which it is based.

It is the most important book for parents which has been published for a decade.

Germany Puts the Clock Back by Edgar Ansel Mowrer, published by William Morrow and Co.

It doesn't seem that any picture of modern Germany could be complete without this picture by Mr. Mowrer. His book has stirred up deep animosity in Germany and only the united pressure of foreign newspaper men in Germany who threatened with the world opinion served to save the author from excessive unpleasantness at the hands of the government.

Dorothy Thompson says of the book that it is the first attempt at a complete account of what has happened in Germany since the end of the war and the founding of the German republic. It is the first convincing explanation why the most democratic republic in the modern world has degenerated in the last decade into a dictatorship and largely reverted to forms and mentality against which the whole world in 1914 went to war. "The decline and fall of the German democracy is the most portentous phenomenon of western world and this is the first book to tell the tale," says Dorothy Thompson.

The book is not easy to read; facts seldom are. Portions of this book deal with names and the history of organizations and these together with some analyses of the German people which, if one has come to have a friendly feeling toward post war Germany one doesn't want to believe.

The two causes of the revolution were the Versailles treaty and the Republic itself. "Imagine a republic," says Mr. Mowrer, "that allows its laws to be interpreted by monarchist judges, its government to be administered by old-time functionaries brought up in fidelity to the old regime; that watches passively while reactionary school teachers and professors teach its children to despise the present freedom in favor of a glorified feudal past; that permits and encourages the revival of the militarism that was chiefly responsible for the country's previous humiliation."

The German people had been living with the benefits of social legislation such as unemployment insurance, old age pensions, etc., which were examples for democracies. Owing to the benevolent paternalism of the old autocracy, they felt no burning desire for freedom from a yoke. Under the republic, thanks to the burdens of the Versailles treaty they could look back to "the good old days" of imperialism. Mr. Mowrer outlines the methods for popularizing itself which the Republic should have taken. Various myths and traditions played an important part in the present situation in Germany, according to Mr. Mowrer, and it is all startling logical and astute on the part of the adherents of the old regime.

Not only is "Germany Turns the Clock Back" a useful picture of Germany, it also serves to enlarge our understanding of the whole European situation of today.

The Captain's Curio by Eden Phillips, published by the McMillan company.

"The Captain's Curio" is by the author of "Bred in the Bone" and "Witch's Cauldron" but in no way connected as those two mystery stories were with each other. Detective-Inspector James Midwinter of Scotland Yard was summoned to Daleham-on-Exe by the murder of Mr. Martin Knox and the theft of two costly ruby earrings valued at fifty thousand dollars which was a substantial portion of Mr. Knox's fortune. Mr. Knox's only relative was Sabine Knox, his nephew, a barrister in London, who had drawn up his will. It was the uncle's intention to leave the sum represented by the rubies to the Conservative party. He had intended to leave the rubies to the party but recently concluded that it would be better to himself dispose of the jewels and hold the money for the party when he died. He was an elderly man well over eighty. For twenty-five years he had been attended by his friend and physician Dr. Hall Wilson.

On the night of the murder Dr. Wilson had visited him and left with the old man's housekeeper who was to fetch back some medicine which the doctor had prescribed. While they were away Sabine Knox arrived on a surprise visit to his uncle and found him dead. Thus the time of the murder is narrowed to about five minutes.

Inspector Midwinter does excellent work on the investigation and one is absorbed in following his devious way through the book.

The Colonial and Federal House by Rexford Newcomb, published by J. B. Lippincott Company. Here is a delightful book on architecture.

Although the Colonial and Federal type of home is not as happily adapted to Southern California as is the Mediterranean type of home, there are individuals in this region to whom the type of homes first adapted to this country on the Eastern coast, carries an appeal to the heart as well as the eye. For them this book will have a special appeal.

The more than hundred illustrations which the author has compiled are fascinating, and one wishes that those who undertake to reproduce Federal and Colonial types of homes would study the photographs of the details of these true old homes, which Dean Newcomb has assembled here, side by side with photographs and carefully selected reproductions. No mistakes would be made by following the old more closely than is the current practice.

Dean Newcomb has gone thoroughly into the subject, so that the evolution of architecture in the United States as it pertained to Colonial and Federal house developments is traced.

Dean Newcomb is the Dean of Architecture of the University of Illinois. Earlier books by him include "The Spanish House for America," and "Old Mission Churches and Historic Houses of California." In this book he traces the very roots of architectural heritage in this country by showing the origin of the Colonial and Federal types.

Modern Poets

By MISS BEULAH MAY

Edith B. Spaulding

This poem is from a rare anthology, "Songs From the Stepladder." I could not find anything about the writer.

THYRI OF WESTRA

Better my foot had been wandering
The bens in the cold and the snow,
With tempest and storm-clouds above me,
The tarn and its marshes below—
Better the gold rose of Grainne
Watched me asleep in the glen,
Than walking with Thyri of Westra,
In days that come never again.

Better my biollinn were lying
Where boots of my forefathers lie,
Than drifting away to the Orkneys
When storm-winds blew loud on the sea.
Better my sad heart were silent,
Where lonely the white billows break,
Than given to Thyri of Westra,
To warm and to love and forsake.

LEE TRACY IN 'THE NUISANCE' STARTS TODAY

"The Nuisance," with Lee Tracy as a high-pressure, ambulance-chasing shyster lawyer in a whirl of comical and exciting adventures, is the attraction booked to play through Monday.

Based on an original story by Chandler Sprague and Howard Emmett Rogers, the rapid-fire drama of big city life is said to give Tracy an even more dynamic role than that of "Clear All Wires." The picture was directed by Jack Conway who filmed "Hell Below."

Madge Evans has the feminine lead as the girl detective, and the cast also features Frank Morgan who recently scored in "Reunion in Vienna," the amusing Charles Butterworth who plays Tracy's partner in crime, John Miljan, Virginia Cherrill, David Landau, Greta Meyer, Herman Bing, Samuel Hinds and Syd Saylor.

Tracy plays an ambulance-chasing lawyer whose trumped-up law suits are costing a street car company a fortune. A girl detective is set to trap him, but instead falls in love with him, and finally marries him so that she won't have to testify against him. She is jailed as a perjurer, but the clever shyster stops traffic by legal technicalities until he rescues her.

Thrills and mystery vie with screaming comedy situations. Short subjects on the same program are: A Mack Sennett comedy, "Daddy Knows Best," a famous Newman travelogue, "Strange Costumes," and a news reel.

FAST ACTION IN BUCK JONES FILM

The army of Buck Jones fans who think they know their favorite western star pretty well are in for a pleasant surprise at Walker's State theater in the picture "Forbidden Trail."

Buck Jones is declared one of the few stars of "western" who has the good fortune to play in pictures that religiously avoid that deadly sameness of story that relegates so many well acted, directed and beautiful photographed productions into the lowly classification as "just another western picture."

"Forbidden Trail" has an entertaining story to start with, a grand characterization by its star, faultless support from a cast that features Barbara Weeks. There is action for those who crave their screen entertainment fast and furious. There is all the typical Buck Jones fast riding and faster shooting, done with a "different" touch that would make even a story of far less importance outstanding screen fare.

'AIR HOSTESS' BEGINS RUN AT STATE SUNDAY

The romance behind commercial aviation is brought to the screen for the first time in Columbia's film, "Air Hostess," which opens Sunday at Walker's State theater.

War aviation has been glorified in a series of splendid productions, notably "Wings," "Hell's Angels" and "Dirigible," but never before has a picture company shown the glamor behind one of the few most fascinating businesses in America today.

"Air Hostess" is the story of one of those charming, adventurous girls who fly the huge transcontinental air lines for a living—in Los Angeles today, then in Cheyenne, Wyoming, then Chicago, then Cleveland, and within two days in New York City. Their life is fraught with excitement and absorbingly interesting human experiences, they meet celebrities, get to know life, and spend all their working hours in the sky.

Motion pictures often have been derided in the past because of their technical faults. That is, aviators have found fault with the way certain flying incidents have been pictured, doctors have said that operations were performed incorrectly, lawyers have complained that the correct court room procedure was not followed.

Al Rogell is one director who doesn't believe in letting these fault finders discover anything wrong in his films. He has a system which prevents this very thing—personal research. Weeks before he began production of the film, Rogell spent several days at the United airport in Hollywood, the largest in the west, interviewing executives, fliers and air hostesses themselves, so that various situations they planned for their story would not be askew.

Evelyn Knapp, James Murray and Thelma Todd have principal roles in the production.

'PROFESSIONAL SWEETHEARTS' COMING SOON

In a finely drawn satirical comedy-drama of a glorified radio soprano, volatile Ginger Rogers, Norman Foster and Zasu Pitts provide high entertainment in RKO-Radio Pictures' "Professional Sweetheart," which starts at the Broadway theater Thursday.

Beauty, charm, and brilliant comedy mark Miss Rogers' splendid performance as the Purty Girl of the Air. The heroine's popularity has grown to an extent which forces her to live up to an artificially ideal character, although she is a red-headed spitfire, full of suppressed desires to visit speakeasies and night clubs and philter with a lover.

Fearful of losing their star, her sponsors secure a "Dream Man" from the backwoods to wed and give her the romance she craves. Complications ensue when an opposition sponsor offers an alluring contract without a morality clause. But the "Dream Man" balks this by taking his radio bride to his Kentucky cabin to make her the kind of a girl he thought she was. Delighted because her hubby thinks she is bad, the Purty Girl goes to extremes in her pretended sinfulness.

Ginger Rogers and Norman Foster in the leading roles of the Purty Girl and her Dream Man render colorful performances in

HARLOW, GABLE HERE IN DRAMA OF UNDERWORLD

Jean Harlow and Clark Gable are reunited as co-stars by popular demand in "Hold Your Man," a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature which comes Sunday to the Broadway theater for a four-day run. The smashing success of "Red Dust," in which they were teamed romantically, brought such a response from public and exhibitors that Anita Loos, famous "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" author, was assigned to provide a new vehicle for the screen lovers.

"Hold Your Man," which teams them romantically, has an underworld flavor and is a rapidly-moving, rowdy, worldly story of time-lapse tempo. In it Miss Harlow plays the part of a gaudy creature who is willing to allow herself to be come the lure in a "love racket" for the sake of her man. Gable, as the man in the case, is a light-moraled chap who finds his real worth when the girl is sent to jail because of the trouble his racket gets her into. The plot is thrilling and with a climactic background in a women's reform school.

Stuart Erwin heads the supporting cast in the most sympathetic role of his career. He plays the part of the man who loves the girl honestly, and wants to marry her, even when he knows the full truth.

Dorothy Burgess is cast as Gypsy, battling night club hostess, and others featured are Burl Kirkland, Garry Owen, Barbara Bonness, Paul Hurst, Elizabeth Patterson, Theresa Harris, Blanche Frederici and George Reed.

The program also includes a Mickey Mouse cartoon, "The Melodrama," a Pete Smith short sports; the Three X Sisters in a song novelty, "Sing, Sister, Sing" and a news reel.

'SILK EXPRESS' TO END RUN TONIGHT

Santa Ana patrons of the Broadway theater found the kind of a program they liked with the reopening of the theater Wednesday, and big crowds have attended each performance.

Tonight marks the last of the first program, which includes the feature "The Silk Express," considered one of the best mystery murder stories the screen has produced in a long time.

Included is a Silly Symphony cartoon which has proven the talk of the city. It is called "Three Little Pigs" and is better than the Silly Symphony which won the national prize for 1932.

Close Friends Bidden
To Tea Inspired by Summer Visitor

Recent arrival of Mrs. Richard Stevens (Jane Griffith) and her two small daughters, Lucinda Margaret and Ann, from Lawrence, Kansas, to spend remaining summer weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Griffith, Laguna Beach, inspired a tea of much intimate charm at which Miss Dorothy Forgy presided yesterday afternoon in the garden of her home, 2107 North Main street.

A score or more of the closest friends of Mrs. Stevens' girlhood days had been invited to drop in for the informal affair, and all were delighted to find that the honoree was accompanied by her elder daughter, a demure small "two-going-on-three" year old maid.

The garden with its cool shade and its many flowers, made a delightful retreat in which the group reminisced merrily of former meetings and experiences. Miss Forgy had the assistance of her mother and sister-in-law, Mrs. H. J. Forgy and Mrs. Fred Forgy, in receiving the guests, after her niece, little Miss Joan Forgy, daughter of the Fred Forgy, met them at the entrance to the home and directed them to the gardens at the rear.

At the tea hour, the senior Mrs. Forgy and Mrs. William A. Griffith took their places at a charmingly arranged table to dispense the fragrant tea and its accompanying dainties.

Mrs. Stevens and her small daughters will remain in California for several weeks before rejoining Mr. Stevens in their Kansas home after his return from attending Elks Grand lodge in Milwaukee.

Santa Ana Pioneer
Quiet Rites

An interesting romance of the autumn of life was suggested in the marriage Wednesday of John W. Mitchell, a Santa Ana pioneer, and Mrs. Virginia May Ory, who exchanged vows at a quiet ceremony conducted by a close friend, Judge Kenneth Morrison.

Mrs. Lenora E. Case, 416 Mortimer street, a family connection, was the only attendant at the wedding, and after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell sought the comfortable home awaiting them at 611 Garfield street, where relatives and friends are now calling to extend congratulations and good wishes.

It was in November, 1887 that John W. Mitchell came from Illinois to Santa Ana, to be followed early in the following year by his family. For many years he was one of the leading paint and paper contractors of the community and was followed in that business by one of his sons, Charles F. Mitchell of this city. Floyd H. Mitchell of the local post office is another son.

Mr. Mitchell has been an Odd Fellow for the past 50 years and served Santa Ana lodge as noble grand among various other offices. But it is for his music that he is best known, and "Dad" Mitchell and his violin have added life and zest to untold scores of entertainments in Santa Ana and vicinity.

Creative Artists Will Plan for Permanent Organization

Choosing their opening dates to coincide with the long anticipated Fiesta del Oro and the varied attractions to be offered Santa Ana residents and guests on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, a group of artists of the city, brought together by Miss Dorothy Mayhew, will hold the opening of what is planned as a permanent studio of arts and handicrafts.

This will be located over the garage at the rear of the Mayhew home, 402 Orange avenue, and each afternoon, Miss Mayhew and various members of the group will be present to show visitors over the place, and display the varied examples of the work of Santa Ana artists.

Beulah May will have some of her newest sketches on exhibit; Ada May Sharpless will show some of her sculptures; Jean Goodwin has promised examples of her pictures and block prints; Burr Shafer will have some of his latest paintings and Douglas Cummings will offer both wood and linoleum block prints.

In other forms of art, will be examples of hammered copper shown by Robert Horn; hand-made pottery by Norman Hicks; and pottery by Dorothy Hicks, while other artists in handicraft are expected to be drawn into the interesting circle and perhaps have examples of their work shown at the opening reception.

No announcements have been sent out, but invitation is extended to anyone interested, to call at the studio between 2 and 5 o'clock on the opening afternoons. It is planned to make this a permanent organization of Santa Ana artists, writers and musicians.

Patrol Team Benefit
Is Marked Success

An abundance of bloom in the gardens of Mrs. Clara Savers, corner of Santiago avenue and Edgewood road, afforded a welcome retreat for the benefit party given yesterday afternoon by the patrol team of Damascus White Shrine. Twenty-six tables were in play.

Prizes for bridge were sanseveria plants, set in gay bowls of glazed pottery. These were awarded to Mrs. Naomi Steele, high, and Mrs. Saele Roehm, low in auction, and to Mrs. Wilson of Huntington Beach, high, and Mrs. Bakre, of Huntington Beach, low, in contract. Mrs. Nina Ingles of Hollywood was awarded a similar prize for sewing.

Refreshments of ribbon sandwiches, icebox cookies, and tea were served. Refreshment committee was headed by Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, while tables were in charge of Mrs. Stella Whisenand.

Santa Ana Elected
Grand Y. L. I. Officer

The return yesterday of Mrs. Harry D. Edwards, Mrs. R. H. Sandon and Mrs. A. L. Steward, Capistrano Y. L. I. delegates to the state convention and convention of grand officers of the Young Ladies' Institute, held in San Francisco, brought the interesting information to Capistrano chapter members and friends, of a special honor paid the local institute at the grand convention.

This was the election of Mrs. Steward, prominent in Capistrano Y. L. I. activities, to the post of grand inside sentinel in the national line-up of officers. The three Santa Ana women made the northern trip by train, Mrs. Edwards, newly elected president of Capistrano institute, and Mrs. Steward as delegates, and Mrs. Sandon as alternate, taking the place of Mrs. Frank B. Allaire, junior past president, who was unable to attend.

Young Host Receives
Friendly Group at Birthday Party

An evening party for a few of his friends was the manner in which young Billy was elected to celebrate his eleventh birthday when that auspicious date arrived this week, and the results were all that might be desired by host and guests who assembled at his invitation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Was, 617 Orange avenue.

The evening's entertainment offered a variety of table games as well as some of the old time favorites, such as musical chairs, and others equally lively. One of the most interesting phases was the opening of a number of packages and Billy's pleasure in the gifts which his friends had selected for him.

As the evening advanced, the young people were assembled around the table in the dining room where a birthday cake with its 11 candles, gleamed from the center of the board and was cut to be served with ice cream and other dainties by Mrs. Was and her daughter, Miss Frances Was. Billy had announced that he wanted an angel food cake, so that was the type of the delicacy, which was baked by his sister, Frances. The young people included Virginia Valentine, Frances Hartman, Betty Anne McAuley, Joe Ryan Jr., Howard Elliott and Robert Valentine, in addition to the young host.

claves in session there. Institute members are anticipating an interesting year, as Mrs. Edwards has displayed a rare executive ability in other organizations. She has been active in the Women's auxiliary to Jack Fisher chapter, D. A. V., and served as president, later having the honor of election to the presidency of the state auxiliary, D. A. V., after having filled different offices in the state organization.

Mrs. Frank B. Allaire, 317 Eighth street, Huntington Beach, is one of the young matrons of Capistrano chapter, Y. L. I., membership, and just completed an interesting year as president of the institute, conducting it safely through the time that will go down in history as the "Depression Year." The social service was one of the most important departments under her reign, and of equal importance was the decision of the institute to sponsor the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. Mrs. Allaire has been married only about two years.

Family Group Leaves
For Extended Trip

Leaving at noon today for an eastern automobile trip, Mr. and Mrs. J. Simon Fluor, 1514 Main street, with their daughter and two grandsons, Mrs. Harvey Gardner and Jack and Dick Gardner, 2026 North Main street, anticipate a happy reunion with relatives and old friends in their former home, Oshkosh, Wisc., visits at way points of interest, and attendance at the Century of Progress exposition in Chicago. Mr. Gardner was unable to accompany his family east, so will remain here at their home during their absence.

Mr. Fluor has taken a cottage at Lake Butte des Morts, summer resort near Oshkosh, for the weeks they will be in that vicinity, and it is the plan that the family party will arrive in their former home in time to celebrate the anniversary of Mrs. Gardner's birth on Friday, July 28. She was formerly Miss Esther Fluor, and had her grade and high school training in Oshkosh where scores of friends will welcome her return with her two young sons.

The Santa Anans plan to spend some time at the exposition, the two boys being eager to see the various features, especially the Science building and the motor assembling plants. They will return westward by way of Salt Lake City to enable Jack and Dick to realize another ambition, a swim in Great Salt Lake, and will arrive in Santa Ana in early September.

Faculty Member Has Pleasant Visit in This Community

Professor Theodore Laetsch of the faculty of Concordia Theological seminary, St. Louis, Mo., where Gerhard Schmooch is now a senior, has just completed a ten days' visit in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. William Schmooch, 816 Brown street. He went from here to Los Angeles to be the guest for a few days of the Rev. G. E. Smukal, 1705 East Fifth street, and will leave tomorrow to return to his home in St. Louis.

During his Santa Ana stay his hosts planned many outings for his enjoyment, and he was especially interested in the beauties of Arrowhead, Big Bear and San Diego, going to the latter city by the coast route and returning by the inland route. It was his first visit in California, and he declared that he was impressed and inspired by the ever-changing but always beautiful scenery.

Although Professor Laetsch came to the coast primarily to attend the Southern California District convention of the Lutheran church, held last week in Orange, his entire stay was one of very real social enjoyment as well, yielding fully as much pleasure to his hosts as to the visitor.

Return to Santa Ana Celebrated With Luncheon

When Mrs. Rollo Hays entertained at luncheon Thursday in her home, 818 South Birch street, she had as incentive for her hospitality, the recent return to Santa Ana of Mrs. Jennie Crawford, who will make her home at 834 South Rose street.

Mrs. Crawford is the mother of Mrs. Charles G. Nalle, one of the city's well-known singers, and has been in Claremont making a home for her grandson, Crawford Nalle, while he completed his course at Pomona college. A host of friends will welcome her, and because she is to establish her home here now, Mrs. Hays conceived the delightful idea of calling these friends together for a household shower. The ribbon-tied gifts were piled on a table to be opened at the conclusion of the luncheon of southern baked ham and other dishes typical of Mrs. Hays' own Dixie-land. Flowers graced the table and were massed about the pretty home, just newly fitted up. Mrs. B. B. Kellogg was complimented upon her skill in arranging the blossoms which included asters in rust, bronze, red and yellow tones from her own gardens, and delphiniums and Transvaal daisies sent by Mrs. J. E. Paul and Mrs. E. G. Summers.

Three Girls Serve Luncheon was served by the Misses Mary and Jane Nalle, granddaughters of the honoree, and Elizabeth Hays, daughter of the hostess, with Gilbert Colbeck supervising. Later, while Miss Jane was untiring the ribbons of the gift packages to be claimed and examined delightedly by the honor guest, Mrs. Hays introduced a clever entertainment feature. Each guest was allowed to draw a slip designating her occupation for the next half hour, so some read, others did needlework or crocheting, worked jigsaw puzzles, or even occupied themselves with utilitarian darning.

Mrs. Summers read aloud the article, "Jesus' Supply" from the current Nautilus, while Mrs. Crawford looked at the pretty things selected for use and beauty in her home.

Only Mrs. Crawford's closest friends were assembled for this happy event, Mrs. Hays extending invitation to Mesdames Charles G. Nalle, Mac Robbins, Robert E. Coulter, M. E. Geeting, J. W. Taylor, E. G. Summers, B. B. Kellogg, Warren Brakeman, E. L. Halladay, H. M. Culler, W. H. Harrison, M. M. Holmes, J. E. Paul, J. P. Greene, John Harrison, Binta Miller, W. D. Ranney, Charles E. Walker, George Wells, Roy Russell, Miss Dell Silver, Miss Mary Archer, Miss Nannie Wilkoff, of Santa Ana; Mrs. C. W. Hudson of Long Beach; Mrs. George Stevens and Mrs. Edwin Rundstrom of Anaheim.

Willing Workers Are Entertained in Orange

Willing Workers were pleasantly entertained yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Gladys McDonald, 192 South Center street, Orange. Assisting Mrs. McDonald was Mrs. Sarah Gorr. The hostesses had chosen marigolds and cornucopia in tones of yellow to deck the home, where yellow was whited away in sewing for the needy. Bible study was conducted by Mrs. Freda Porter. Dainty refreshments of homemade pineapple ice, wafers and coffee were served on trays at the close of the affair.

Present were Mesdames Carrie Lewis, Edna Brooks, Blanche Campbell, Laura Lining, Martha Stone, Grace L. Strickland, Mabel Elliott, Mary Elliott, Freda Porter, Theo Erickson, Leslie Ralls, Lillian Walthman, Frank Palmer, Etta Huffman, Mercy Van Buren, Florence Merriman, Margaret Smith, A. E. Barnett, Rozalia Smith, Miss June Brooks, and the hostesses, Mrs. Gladys McDonald and Mrs. Sarah Gorr.

The next meeting will be an all day affair on August 4 in the ranch home of Mrs. Leslie Ralls on North Handy street, near Orange.

Family Group Enjoys
First Reunion in Several Years

Arrival yesterday on the H. F. Alexander of Mrs. Lewis Beark (Eleanor Thatcher) of Oakland, with her little 16-months old daughter, Barbara, completed a happy family reunion now in progress in the home of Mrs. Lucy Whiting and her daughters, Mrs. Edith Thatcher and Miss Mabel Whiting, 506 East Chestnut street.

Miss Virginia Thatcher, the second daughter of Mrs. Edith Thatcher, arrived by airplane a week ago from Baltimore, Md., while Mrs. Thatcher's son, Dr. Everett Thatcher, with his wife and their eight-months old daughter, Lucy Whiting Thatcher, of Schenectady, N. Y., completes the family party, the first one in which all have been together for a number of years.

Dr. Thatcher holds the chair in the physics department of Union College at Schenectady, and his sister, Miss Virginia Thatcher, is employment manager of Hochschild-Kohn, one of the large department stores of Baltimore. She has a month's vacation which she will spend here in her girlhood home.

Farewell Party Takes
Form of Wiener
Bake

A delightful farewell party Wednesday evening honored Mrs. Louisa Gebhard and Mrs. Anna Ames, of Long Island, Kans., who have been guests in the home of Mrs. Anna Hasenjaeger, 622 Eastwood avenue. The two left yesterday for Medford, Ore., where they will visit relatives.

The affair was in the gardens at the rear of the E. C. Kuhl home, 666 Garfield street, and was a wiener bake and covered dish supper combined. The varied picnic delights were served at tables gay with dahlias.

Present in addition to the honored guests, were Messrs. and Mesdames David Caldwell, Ed Dietrich, Will Dietrich, Ray Burrier and son Edward, George Hasenjaeger and sons Donald and Norman, Roscoe Dietrich and daughter Phyllis and sons Billy, Walter, and Junior, Aaron Buchheim and daughter Charlotte and son Lawrence, of Serra, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kuhl, and daughter, Miss Margaret Kuhl.

Santa Ana Artists
Will Feature Sonata

Two Santa Ana artists, Miss Georgia Belle Walton, violinist, and Clarence Gustlin, pianist, have been invited to take part in the year's closing program of the Long Beach Musical Arts club, to be held in connection with a formal dinner Monday night at the Villa Riviera, Long Beach. Miss Walton and Mr. Gustlin have been asked to present the new Cadman Sonata for violin and piano, which they gave so successfully before its composer early this summer, earning his unstinted praise. They have planned a series of concert appearances during the coming fall and winter months, including one before Riverside Women's club on December 12, when the Sonata will be one of the major numbers on their program.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, July 22.—The B. I. Frost family has returned to their home here from Huntington Beach where they have resided for some time. The local home has been remodelled and modernized extensively.

One evening a group of Miss Ophelia Frost's young friends including those from Huntington Beach, Talbert, Santa Ana and the local community surprised her by bringing pot-luck luncheon to the Frost home. Afterwards games entertained.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Dinner
1-2 grapefruit, no sugar
Stewed chicken or
Broiled white fish
4 Tbsp. of any green vegetable
1 tsp butter dressing
Sauce:
Sliced tomato
Lettuce hearts
Cucumber
Radishes
Buttermilk diet mayonnaise
Clear tea.
Calory total, 445.

With a few changes the family may be served the same dinner as the dieting member: change the grapefruit to fruit or tomato juice cocktail. Add potatoes and more butter to the family menu, rolls or bran muffins, oil mayonnaise, and dessert for those who wish it. Chilled halves of cantaloupe or berries will please every one in hot weather.

I have a treat in store for you women who like to make pickles: Last winter a jar of the most wonderful home-made dill pickles was sent to me. Ordinarily I do not like pickles but these were just to die for and tangy to let me pass them up. I've written for this recipe and it will be published under the name: Nannie's Dill Pickles. Watch for it.

I wonder if there aren't a lot of women who wouldn't buy their supply of dill and other pickles if some home cook brought the idea to their attention? A cleverly worded little ad would do the trick. Women, y' know, are inveterate ad readers.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Cherry Pie
1 quart Royal Anne, or
Any large cherry
Fruit coloring, about 1 tsp
1-4 cups sugar
3-1-2 Tbsp. flour
3 Tbsp. butter
Pastry of a large lemon
Juice to line pie plate and make lattice for top.

A woman in another city conceived the idea of making pies for sale, cherry pies to be exact. Pie cherries were not available so she experimented with Royal Anne and found them so fine she is making all her cherry pies with them this year, and the money is rolling into her little kitchen home bakery.

Pit the cherries and cut them small.
Sift flour and sugar together.
Line the pie plate with pastry rolled not too thin. Put one-half of the flour and sugar in the bottom of the pan, on this put half of the cherries and lemon juice with fruit coloring mixed. Cover with a lattice of pastry and bake 45 minutes in an oven that is moderate for all but 10 minutes at the start. The oven should be very hot at the start to "set" the pastry.

A slice of cherry pie has a calory value of 325, energy type.

The printer will soon have a supply of diet leaflets ready for those who have waited long, and patiently—I hope. If you need to lose a few pounds send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and your copy will come along with the rest.

Am reverer until Monday.
ANN MEREDITH.

ICKES IS SOLE BOSS OF VAST WORK PROGRAM

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Register Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes is both a cabinet member and one of those powerful new recovery administrators. He is director of the $3,500,000,000 public works program.

Feared Scandals

You may well ask: How come? The answer is that both Ickes and the administration feared the scandals and charges of favoritism that are almost inevitable in the administration of such an enormous program. One army officer had been tentatively selected as administrator, then another was named "temporary administrator."

Rightly or wrongly, Ickes and his associates came to believe that they could not find an army engineering officer who would be impregnable against influence from private interests and from the army itself, which clamors for hundreds of millions for barracks and rivers-harbors projects. There were strong suspicions of politics and favoritism at work even before the program got under way.

Colonel Waite Deputy

So Ickes asked Roosevelt for the administrators, explaining the situation. Roosevelt agreed. Ickes could take the title, name his own "deputy administrator" who would be administrator to all intents and purposes—and have complete command, free from political strings.

For his deputy, Ickes chose Col. Henry M. Waite, in whom he has complete faith.

Roosevelt has a good word to say for mate (pronounced mat-ay), the bitter tea which Paraguayans want to export to this country and which may be covered by prospective Latin-American trade agreements. "It has all the pick-up qualities of coffee," he says, "but it doesn't keep you awake."

"Brain Trust Fever"

Until lately it was fashionable here to boast the possession of political pull. Now the only folks who talk about that are those who seek jobs. Nearly everyone who has a job is busy insinuating his intellectual attainments and bragging about his close contact with one member or another of the "brain trust."

It's much more stylish to call Tugwell or Moley or Berle by his first name than to profess intimacy with any politician.

The midget who sat on J. P. Morgan's lap at a Senate investigation is barnstorming the country with her circus, hallyhooed as (well, what did you suppose?) "the midget who sat on J. P. Morgan's lap."

Figures Challenged

The national recovery administration is making desperate efforts to tighten up on the data which it uses to support the hour and wage provisions of its "fair competition" codes.

Economists and statisticians are derisive as to the statistical data used by Dr. Alexander Sachs, director of the NRA research division, to prove that a 40-hour week in the cotton manufacturing industry would absorb all unemployed cotton textile workers and an additional 15 to 25 per cent.

They insist there simply weren't figures available with which to work out any such conclusion.

Victory for Glass

Peppery Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, who raised an effective roar when they installed dial telephones in the Senate Office building, has won another victory. Returning here the other day to the hotel he has patronized for 27 years, Glass found its negro waiters had been replaced by white girls. Glass raged. He is now being served again by black "Roy," who has waited on him through those 27 years. (Copyright, 1933, NEA Service, Inc.)

LA HABRA

Pauline Brewster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brewster of the Murphy Lease, arrived home Tuesday, by train, after spending two weeks with friends in Sacramento and at Lake Tahoe.

The Truth Seekers class of the La Habra Baptist church held a picnic dinner Tuesday evening at Anaheim park. There were about 50 in attendance. On Wednesday evening a surprise shower was given by the group for Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Hall, who are newcomers in La Habra. The evening was spent playing games, after which refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. William Keith and daughter Doris are moving this week from Adelanto, to Huntington Beach, where he has been transferred by the oil company for which he works.

Mrs. Williamott Schattgen of San Francisco, is a house guest at the home of Councilman and Mrs. A. L. Thurnher. She is an aunt of Mrs. Thurnher.

LOS ALAMITOS

LOS ALAMITOS, July 22.—There were no objections to the budget for 1933-34 at the public meeting held in Laurel school last night.

The increased enrollment, requiring another teacher and approximately $700 to repair earthquake damage brought the budget up to slightly more than $1900 in excess of the amount planned for last year.

This year's budget calls for $12,800.57 and was considered very satisfactory by the citizens who attended the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Groendyke and family left Wednesday for a vacation trip to Yosemite.

Mrs. F. R. Gillis writes from Missouri that her vacation trip will continue for a month longer.

Mrs. Grace Green has returned from a visit with friends in Glendale.

Mrs. John Sjöstrom returned Wednesday from Utah where she was called by the serious illness of her mother.

The Aid society of Community church will have a silver tea next Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Grace Green.

SMELTZER

SMELTZER, July 22.—S. J. Clemens, a cousin of Mrs. Harry Woodington, and wife of San Bernardino were entertained as over-night guests by Mr. and Mrs. Woodington this week.

Florence Ray Moore who has been confined at her home ill with measles, is convalescent.

Members of the Grana family, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Grana and son, Peter Grana, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. C. Geddis, friends from Huntington Beach, motored to Baldwin park for a day as guests of Mrs. Grana's sister and family.

Drunkennes is only one of the social sins, and we have never quite adequately considered it in relation to other social sins and unsavory social conditions. It is not a mere matter of chance that drunkennes has been most prevalent among the very poor and the very rich, and that the great middle class of honest respectable people, content to give their labor and service for a reasonable return, have been least affected by the temptations of drink and other social evils.

We cannot correct these deep evils in society merely by legislation or by formal regulations and adjustments, much as law and regulation may be needed. At the heart of these evils lie dishonesty and falsehood. Isaiah touched the very root of the matter when he pronounced woe to them "that call evil good and good evil."

A great deal of our trouble today lies not in wrong intention but in wrong conceptions of life. Our ideals are perverted from honesty and truth and unselfishness, and we imagine that we can build success and happiness in life while we disregard these things as long as we get desirable possessions of ourselves. Neither individual lives nor society can be built upon a sound foundation along those lines.

Wrong conceptions will lead to destructive goals. This was the very heart of Isaiah's message, and it is the message that we need to consider today.

JOSEPH tests his BRETHREN

THE famine that was in Egypt extended even into Canaan. So Jacob sent his ten eldest sons into Egypt to buy grain, for word had come to him of the famous governor who had charge of the Egyptian stores, though he was not yet aware that it was Joseph, his own lost son.

However, he kept Benjamin, the youngest and (after Joseph) his favorite, at home, since it was a long and dangerous journey into Egypt.

When the ten brothers were brought before the governor they bowed low as to a stranger, for he had changed much in passing, from shepherd boy to man of power. But Joseph knew them, and he disguised his voice to test them.

"You are spies from Canaan," he said, and thrust them into prison. The brothers wept and said to one another, "This is a punishment for the wrong we did unto Joseph in years past."

After three days, when Joseph saw their remorse, he forgave them, and said: "Take your sacks of grain, return unto Canaan, and then if you be not spies, as proof, bring your youngest brother Benjamin back to me."

When they were home again and opened the sacks, out fell their purses full of money, for Joseph had secretly returned what they had paid. Bewildered, they told Jacob of their adventure and of the strange request of the Egyptian governor to see young Benjamin, for they did not yet realize that the man who had saved them from famine was the brother they had sold into bondage.

The story of the Testing of the Brethren is from the Old Testament—Genesis—Chapter XLII.

Isaiah Denounces Drunkards

Text: Isaiah 5:8-12, 18-24
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 23.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist

The wording of our topic for special groups is interesting. The title of the lesson for intermediate and senior students is "Attacking wrongs without gloves," and for young people and adults "Evils which must be overcome." Either of these titles is in some respects preferable to the general title, for Isaiah's arraignment of the evils of his day was not of drunkenness alone, but of other deeply-rooted social sins as well.

It is in some measure a sad indication of the slowness of real progress in the world that a denunciation of evil in society made several centuries before Christ is so necessary and forceful in relation to our modern society even in 1933.

Isaiah attacks first of all the problem of the inequality of wealth and opportunity, and the selfishness with which certain strong or privileged people have grasped more than their share of what is needed for the common good. In this particular instance it was largely a land problem, for the state of society was pastoral and agricultural. But whether it be land, or wealth needed for the common good, the problem is much the same.

Can anyone who surveys our modern society contend that Isaiah's sermon does not apply to our time? Evil ambitions and evil habits go hand in hand. If we had the spiritual vision to see it, we would perceive very readily that ill-gotten wealth is itself a

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The schoolroom was a real strange scene. Said Scouty, "Gee, these fish seem keen to study. Why, most schools are out. Why is this open now?"

"To all the fish, schoolwork is day. They even come on Saturday," replied the kindly teacher. "Missing school we don't allow."

And then she turned to all her fish and said, "Attention, now! I wish to introduce you to this happy band of Tinymites."

"They travel everywhere, you see. They're curious as they can be. It always is real thrilling when they come upon new sights."

One little fish then said, "Which one? Oh, teacher, it will be real fun to sing the welcome song and let our voices ring out strong."

"All right," replied the teacher. "You can sing that pretty song all through, and then we'll let Wee Willie Bass sing some tune all alone."

The welcome song then rang out clear. "Oh, Tinymites, you're welcome here! Please feel we're glad to have you and that our home is your own."

"Sing it again and we'll join in," said happy Duncy, with a grin. And when they did, the teacher said, "That sounded very sweet!"

"Now Willie Bass will have his turn. He practiced the song that he is going to sing. I hope it is a treat."

Wee Willie seemed to feel real proud. He turned and faced the Tiny crowd and then began to sing the little song he knew so well.

He made a bow when he was through. One Tiny shouted, "That was swell!"

(Duncy entertains the fish in the next story.)

"THE CRISIS IN CHARACTER"

In the August Harper's James Truslow Adams writes an article on "The Crisis in Character," in which he expresses an opinion which the reader has reason to hope will be modified by the longer view afforded by history. "Moral issues appear to have ceased to make the slightest appeal to the ordinary citizen," says Mr. Adams. The forefront of the article is devoted to examples which appear to prove the statement and the latter to an analysis of the way in which the American people got into the character slough in which they are wallowing, according to this writer.

One of Mr. Adams' examples is an attitude which is met with everywhere in society. He tells of his shock last year when Judge Seabury was making his fight against Mayor Walker and for decent government in New York. He heard a group of club men, men who by position were leaders, sympathize with Mayor Walker as against Seabury, because the latter was less amusing than Mayor Walker. Judge Seabury was "too much like George Washington," one of them said. Jimmy Walker was always amusing and good company.

This attitude was a part of the fear of being bored which had a grip on people. But it is an exceedingly transitory fear; a bugaboo which absorption in more vital affairs banishes entirely. And of late years most people have had more essential concerns than the pursuit of something which would keep boredom at bay.

The one hopeful note is introduced in the conclusion and it isn't much to cling to, for he points to history for the revelation of a change for the better, which occurred without any reason.

"One of the most striking changes which I know of in history," he says, "is the change in English political life from the time of the Georges to that of Victoria. In the first, England had one of the most venal public services in the world; in a generation or two she had a civil service which has never been surpassed for honesty, patriotism and efficiency. What wrought the change? There is no explanation in any history and no Englishman has supplied me with even a plausible reason."

Likewise for no reason at all Mr. Adams does see an evidence of change for the better in national character. But so convincing is the forefront of his article that one wishes he would enlarge upon the evidences of change for the better in character. The change, he says in conclusion, "is not a matter of committees and machinery and organization. It can come only from some subtle change in the heart of the individual American man and woman, a change which one cannot predict but of which one need not despair."

SANTA ANA COMPANY GOES "IRA"

The title insurance companies of Santa Ana have, by agreement, reduced their hours from 8 o'clock in the morning until 4 p. m. This shortens their day by one hour, or 12½ per cent, and thereby either speeds up the workers or forces an increase in employment. We understand that additional help is being put on, and that salaries are remaining the same as before.

We believe that this action should be commended as carrying out the spirit of the Industrial Recovery act. If all lines of business could follow suit, or if all those follow suit that can, there will be a marked increase in employment among the so-called "white collar" class.

We would commend this program to the professional men, the doctors and the lawyers. If the lawyers would all quit at 4 o'clock, reducing the length of their day, it might be possible that legal business would be more largely distributed. Those who are loaded with business and naturally have a corresponding income, could well aid in this manner toward the distribution of business.

To be sure, we know that professional services are largely based upon personal confidence, and there are those who would wait through a considerable period, in order to get the services of the particular man whom they desired. But even in the case of these, if the day were limited, additional help would be required in the office, and possibly professional men, capable, well-equipped, would be added to help the one or ones who would have more than they could do well.

From all over the country comes the welcome news of the co-operation toward recovery by all classes, and we are glad that the various groups here in Santa Ana and Orange county are planning programs to do their part.

ANOTHER "STOCK RIDE" SUGGESTS PERPETUAL MOTION

The Register has for days prior to the slump in Wall street, called attention to the fact that the people with a gambling spirit had skyrocketed many stocks beyond all reason. This has been so utterly foolish and unnecessary, and tends to be so disastrous, that it is difficult to keep one's patience, even in observing.

With business returning slowly but surely, with various industries increasing, unemployment decreasing and wages increasing, there was reasonable ground for a fair rise in various stocks, but not for any such wild, hysterical orgy which took place.

It is perfectly apparent that the older and the bigger boys in the game have lost none of their cunning or technique. They watched with glee as the prices soared, slowly unloading and reaping a profit, and then suddenly shoving blocks of stocks on the market, until the prices tumbled, at which they themselves can buy them up if they desire, and repeat the process on the millions of dumb ones.

Greed in the saddle, a hysterical crowd to ride down, and the country almost wrecked! The stock exchange has limited its hours now. Even its members realize that it is damaging to the country, and they want to curtail its damage, as far as limiting hours can do it. The simple men are the people "out in the sticks," who think they know the game well enough to play it against the boys who control it. You can't do it—"the house" finally gets your money.

COMPETITION IN LONDON

In London there is a circulation war on between The Herald, The Daily Express, The News Chronicle and The Daily Mail. Subscription inducements have reached phenomenal proportions. At one time sixteen-volume sets of Dickens were being offered, but now they are offering cameras, cutlery, electric irons and tea sets. The Financial News estimates the total cost to exceed two million pounds a year, and aptly asks: Why should the shareholders be cannon fodder in this purposeless battle between Chinese Generals? Not only that but if only a portion of the money being spent on circulation premiums could be put into the garnering of news for the papers and the hiring of expert news writers it would benefit all the readers of the newspapers. The tea set and the electric iron can only be enjoyed by the family which got them in return for their subscription.

We are entering on a new era in which it is being appreciated as never before that cut-throat competition is wasteful and that society pays.

TOURNAMENT OF LIGHTS A NOTE-WORTHY EVENT

Tonight not only Orange county, but thousands of people from outside of the county, will make their pilgrimage to Newport Beach and see the parade in the annual Tournament of Lights.

This is always a picturesque spectacle, thoroughly planned, well worked out, and is a credit to the city of Newport Beach.

Newport Harbor is peculiarly fitted for such a scene, as the winding channel between the island and the peninsula affords opportunity for the thousands to enjoy the parade.

Each year there is some added attraction, and tonight, we are sure, will be no exception.

Concerning Bees

Busy bees in California last year improved the shining hours by producing 19,525,000 pounds of honey, which with other products, put about one million dollars into the pockets of the bee keepers. The State Department of Agriculture reports that the sale of bees brought about $120,000 and beeswax netted $100,000.

These figures may well startle some who are not accustomed to looking upon the bee industry as one of importance in a state which has leadership in so many agricultural lines. The million-dollar story is but a part of the whole, as the department estimates that in addition the work performed by the bees in pollination of fruit and other crops was worth about nine million dollars to agriculture in the State.

Cottonwood, California, shipped 50,000 pounds of bees during the year, and the industry over the country seems to have looked up. Alabama is now sending out more than 200,000 packages of bees annually to Saskatchewan, Canada, and the northern states of this country; Ohio holds a high place as a shipper.

Before the Museum of Natural Science in Madrid recently Don Jose Rovia Mari demonstrated a patent hive and announced that the productivity of bees can be increased in some cases as high as 100 per cent. With this "fountain hive" it is only necessary to perform a simple operation and then open a spout through which the honey flows. Frank Bornhoffer of Cincinnati is quoted by the New York Sun as saying that bees conduct their own gang wars, and that when a rival gang tries to "muscle in" on another hive's territory war is on to the death. He has not said gang wars in bee civilization are any more numerous or vicious in recent years.

Don't Tempt Fate on Desert During Summer

Riverside Enterprise

That Riverside county's desert is a place to be visited during the summer months only under proper conditions again has been demonstrated. In this particular incident one man lost his life and several others were overcome by thirst and heat.

They were members of an automobile party which undertook to travel over a little used road with apparently no preparations to meet conditions which prevail at this time of the year. Their car broke down, and they were compelled to walk for miles in the glare of a burning summer sun.

Traveling in a temperature well over 100 degrees even along a paved highway with service stations at frequent intervals is a physical ordeal for many persons. To negotiate a road where speed is impossible and where no help is available in case of emergency is tempting fate.

The desert is a delightful motoring district except during the hot summer months. The magnificent vistas, the pastel coloring of the sky and the land, the sense of vastness and solitude constitute an inspiring experience. But when summer arrives the friendly desert becomes a region of peril. Hot winds sweep across the sandy wastes. The sun shines down fiercely from a sky that is painfully clear. The dust and heat are everywhere. Only experienced desert travelers, well equipped for any need that may arise, should venture off the main highways.

Tragedies such as that near Blythe this week are needless. They are the result of something very near to foolhardiness.

THE MARCH OF LITERATURE

Time was when I reveled in thrillers—Wild tales of the still wilder West—Replete with the exploits of killers Whose morals were none of the best. But whenever my elders detected These volumes, they snatched them away And somehow I always suspected That they read them themselves the next day.

Western stories were never permitted To enter the household—indeed They were looked on as wholly unfitted For the young generation to read. So we hid them away in the stable, To con by a lantern's dim glow, While we read—at the sitting room table—The works of the late E. P. Roe.

Today when I pick up a story I always discover, forsooth, That it's far more exciting and gory Than the stuff that I read in my youth. It treats the crude facts of existence With a liberal lack of restraint. And a stern and remorseless insistence That would make my old grandmother faint.

What's become of the blood-curdling novels In which people once took delight, Where urchins, emerging from hovels, Battled nobly to uphold the right—The novel of red blood and thunder Which today you but dimly recall? Just look at one, and you will wonder Why anyone read them at all.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

OUR DISTINCTIVE TASK

The distinctive task of any age or of any generation is set for it by what the preceding age or generation did and what remains to be done.

What is our distinctive task? Americans generally need to know what this distinctive task is. Otherwise they will stand on the side lines without the background necessary for either the criticism or the collaboration which the national leadership must have if it is to bring us out of the slough into the uplands.

The last generation pushed the frontiers of science very far. It laid the foundations and lifted the superstructure of our machine economy.

It carried the conquest of nature leagues beyond anything the race had yet known.

It solved, for all practical purposes, the problem of production. We can now, as far as facilities and instruments are concerned, produce enough to provide the race with the necessities, the comforts and the luxuries.

We can lift the living level of the whole human race above anything it has yet realized—that is, we know how to produce what is necessary for such lifting.

And yet, for all this achievement, the world has been in the toils of a terrible slump.

We have been in this slump because this generation has not yet tackled its distinctive task as concentratedly and as conscientiously as the last generation tackled its distinctive task.

As I have said so often, our separate activities have been perfected with rare genius.

The trouble has been that we have not learned to organize the relationships of these separate activities so that they will not be mutually destructive.

This larger social and economic organization is our distinctive task.

In this task government must play a larger and larger role—and, for this reason, we must be open-minded as government feels its way towards this new task.

GROWING

"How that child grows." The child who troubles you so. You have grown a long, long growth since then. The temper that was so easily roused, the tears that came so swiftly, the impatience that cramped your thinking, a limited vision that held you to so short a view have been out-grown. You have become steadier, surer, more tolerant and far wiser.

Just how you made this growth you do not know. You say experience taught you, the teacher helped you, life taught you. You are right of course for all the peevishness, the doubts, the uncertainties we share, teach us and stimulate our growth. But there is that mysterious something that lies beyond all our knowing. There is a point always, no matter how deep our probing nor how far seeing our vision, beyond which we cannot go. Reasoning stops and believing begins.

This growth that we call living goes on from birth to death, and that, too, may be a stage of growth.
